Mrs. John Adams, New President Morrow Jr. Woman's Club

The Morrow Junior Womans Club held its regular meeting Thursday, June 27 at the Bank of Clayton County.

Mrs. Homer Cooper brought the devotional and led the members in the club collect. The devotional carried out the Fourth of July theme.

Mrs. Carolyn Shirley announced that the program would be presented by the seven department chairmen--Mrs. Nell Lawson, Mrs. Bob Gay, Mrs. J. W. Morgan, Mrs. Thomas King, Mrs. Rudolf Johnson, Mrs. W. A. Powers and Mrs. N. P. Scurry--explained their departments' purpose for the year, adorned with ornamental hats that each had chosen (from her original collection) to represent her department.

Beautiful Fourth of July refreshments were served. Red, white and blue cakes, each bearing a miniature flag were made by Mrs. Pat King.

New business was then called for and the following motions were approved.

1. Each club member is to send a letter to each Senator stating either approval or disapproval of the President's strong gun law.

2. That the Morrow Junior Woman's Club write a letter of congratulations to the Jonesboro Woman's Club.

3. Club members can check out club property but will be accepting all responsibility for any damages until returned.

Mrs. Homer Cooper announced to the club that the Georgia Federated State Club Institute will meet in Carrollton, Ga.

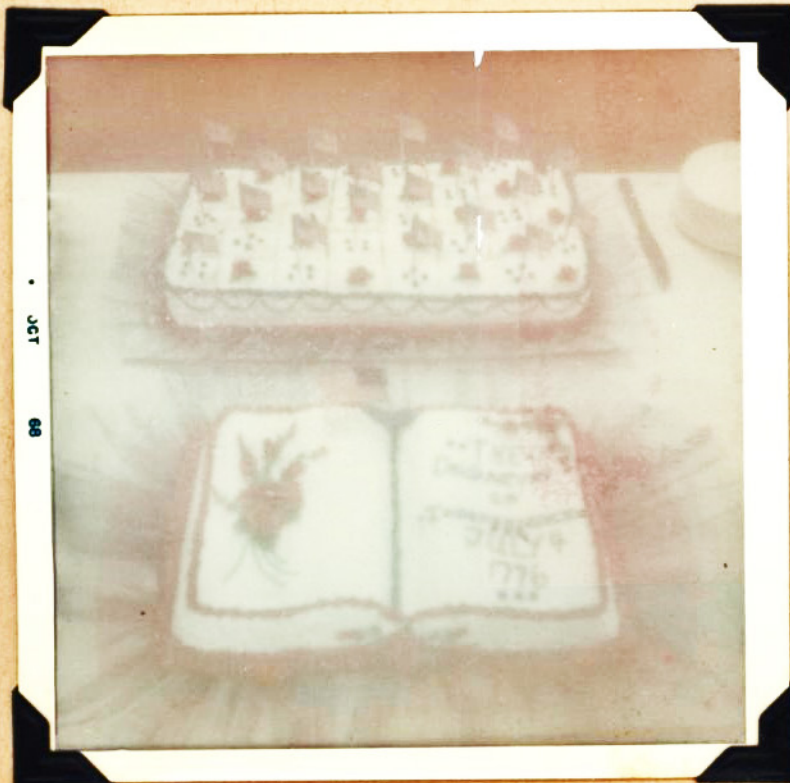

August 6 from 10 a.m. til 1 p.m. All department and committee chairmen are urged to attend.

Mrs. John Adams then read a letter from Mrs. Bob Childs, president, stating that she and her husband will be moving out of the community and therefore submitting her resignation as president.

The club reluctantly voted, accepting Mrs. Childs' resignation. Mrs. Childs then presented the gavel to Mrs. John Adams. Mrs. Adams has served on many committees and has served as first vice president.

The meeting was then adjourned since there was no further business.

Morrow Juniors Hold Lake Spivey Outing

The annual family picnic of the Morrow Junior Woman's Club was held Saturday, August 24, at Lake Spivey. Approximately thirty members and their families were present for a time of fun and fellowship followed by a covered dish supper. After the meal, everyone enjoyed a watermelon cutting.

A short business meeting was held prior to the meal during which Ola Levins was elected First Vice President. The Budget and Finance Committee presented some of their anticipated projects, one of which is to be a Spaghetti Dinner which is to be held November 2nd at the Morrow Elementary School.

Tickets are on sale from all members and this is an "eat all you can" dinner for the low price of $1.00.

The club also voted to sell Christmas Cards, Georgia Note Cards and stationery. A Fall Fashion Show is planned for November 12th.

Anyone who is interested in purchasing tickets for the Spaghetti Dinner, or any of the cards, please contact Mrs. Calvin McBroom, 6616 Peacock Boulevard, Morrow, phone 366-0590.

Stamp Days On School Days

The ringing of school bells this fall not only signals the opening of classrooms throughout the country but heralds the 28th year of the Treasury's School Savings Program.

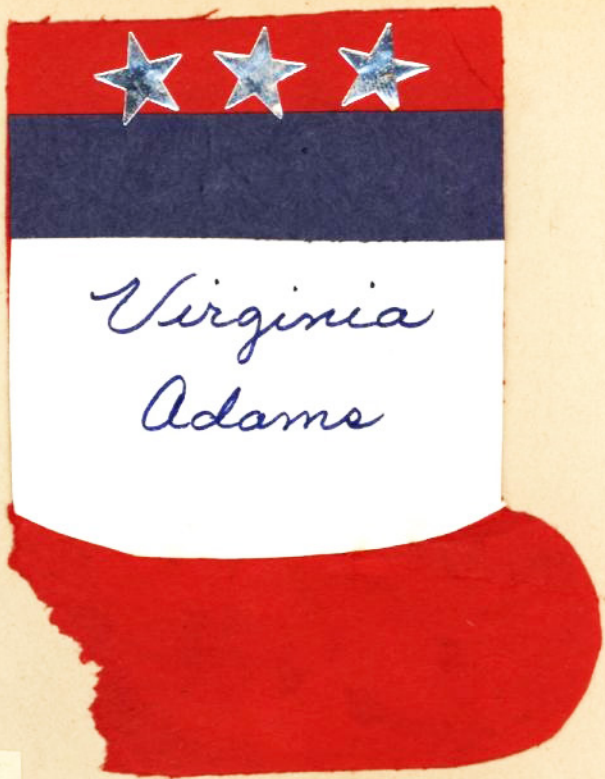

This activity, which operates in many schools, encourages young people to buy U. S. Savings Stamps on given days. When enough stamps have been accumulated, they may be converted into U. S. Savings Bonds.

The Morrow Junior Woman's Club is entering its third year of selling 10c and 25c stamps to the over 1600 children of Morrow and Lake Harbin Elementary Schools. Since there are many schools in Clayton County in which U. S. Savings Stamps are not sold, the Morrow Juniors would like to encourage other clubs to consider this as a needed project for every school in the county. After a couple of years experience, the Morrow Junior Woman's Club can testify that this is truly a rewarding program.

Last spring, the President announced rate changes for Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares—making them more attractive investments. Each youngster who buys enough Savings Stamps to exchange for a Bond will, therefore, get a higher rate of return than ever before. That's nice to know—especially when the young person is building a nest egg for a new bike, clothes, perhaps college.

But there's a lot more to the program than merely realizing a good return on their investment. These youngsters learn the habit of thrift. They learn something about the privileges and responsibilities of citizenship. They really share in America.

Juniors Boost Election Vote

Mrs. Barbara Herren of the Public Affairs Department of the Morrow Junior Woman's Club, along with members of the Jonesboro Jr. Woman's Club, rode around Morrow, Forest Park, and Jonesboro on Wednesday, September 25.

They urged all citizens to get out and vote. The loud speaker on the car carried the following message. "We the members of Morrow and Jonesboro Junior Woman's Club urge all citizens to go to the polls today and vote."

CLAYTON COUNTY JOURNAL, Wednesday, October 2,

Morrow Junior Woman's Club Plan Of Work

The Morrow Junior Woman's Club held their regular monthly meeting September 25 at the Citizen's Bank of Clayton County. Mrs. John Nolen brought the devotional and led the members in the Club Collect.

The program theme was "Understanding Our Government." Hon. Harold R. Banke, Judge spoke to the members on the crime rise in Clayton County and the Criminal Code in Georgia.

Judge Bank told of ways we could help prevent crime. After a very interesting talk he then gave the club members time to ask questions about various subjects.

Each department chairman presented their plan of work for this year to be voted on by the club. All of the work plans were accepted unanimously by the club members. The plans of work by departments and committees are as follows:

The Budget and Finance Committee will sponsor a Spaghetti Supper on November 2 at the Morrow Elementary School. Tickets are $1.00 per adult for "all you can eat."

Also the members are selling Christmas Cards and Georgia Note Cards.

Members are selling tickets for a luncheon, fashion show, and tea at Rich's on November 12. Tickets are $1.00 per person. If you are interested contact Mrs. Jim Bell, 366-0874.

In March of 1969 the club will have a cooking school sponsored by Georgia Power Company.

Mrs. John Adams, President, reminded the members of the Fall District meeting in Macon on October 15th.

Very delicious and colorful refreshments were served by the following members: Mrs. Estelle Bell; Mrs. Dale Blanton; Mrs. Eynone Bradford; Mrs. Joann Carlson; Mrs. Virginia Cheves; Mrs. Shirley Chitwood; and Mrs. Jackie Coker. Thank you for a job well done.

The following are project chairmen for the coming year:

Mrs. John Morgan, Home Life; Mrs. R. P. Gay, Public Affairs; Mrs. Rudolph Johnson, Education; Mrs. Thomas King, Fine Arts; Mrs. Jeff Davis, Community Development; Mrs. W. J. McDaniel, Youth Activities; and Mrs. Nell Lawson, International Affairs.

Morrow Jr. Woman's Club

The Morrow Junior Womans Club met Thursday night October 24. Mrs. John Morgan led the club members in the club collect and brought the devotional.

Mrs. Neil Lawson, Chairman of the International Affairs Department was in charge of the program for the evening. Her topic was "Project Concern and she showed a filmstrip to the club, "To Heal These Wounds in Vietnam". Every club member is urged to bring her book of green stamps to the November meeting along with bean bag. Mrs. Lawson reported that the club will have around $150.00 to sent to Project Concern after next meeting.

After the program refreshments were served, carrying out the Halloween theme... pumpkins, straw hats, spooks, and witches brew were served.

Mrs. John Morgan reported that the Home Life Department has been very busy since the last meeting. Some of the projects were: organizing the Senior Citizens Group, taking combs and brushes to the Clayton County Juvenile Home, Assisting with the testing of eyes in the Lake Harbin Elementary School, and they requested and received cooperation from the Forest Park High School to start Venereal Disease education classes with the 10th graders.

Mrs. R. P. Gay, Chairman of the Public Affairs Department urged all club members to vote yes for No. 4 on the ballot on election day.

Mrs. Calvin McBroom reminded everyone to sell their Christmas Cards and tickets for the Spaghetti Supper.

Mrs. W. J. McDaniel reported that the Morrow Recreation Department has found land to house the department. We the residents of Clayton County need to raise $15,000 in the next 72 days or we lose the option. She urged that each member pledge a contribution in support of this worthwhile project.

During the month of November the Home Life Department is collecting diapers, bottles, and blankets for Grady Hospital. These items are to dress newborn babies before they leave the hospital.

Mrs. Buck Martin reported the following for the Halloween Party last Saturday night, October 26. All members met in the parking lot of the A & P store and were then transported blindfolded to the site of the party.

Since there was no further business the meeting was then adjourned.

Morrow Clubs Promote Local Beautification

By combining the efforts of the Morrow Junior Women's Club, the Morrow Kiwanis Club and the Morrow Lions Club in 1968, the Main Street Railroad crossing has been much improved.

Additional improvements are yet to be completed on this community improvement project. For this reason representatives of these civic organizations will begin asking help of all merchants and citizens in the area.

The clubs will make an effort to contact as many residents as possible

Churches of Morrow Open For Election

On Tuesday, November 5, citizens will have the opportunity to elect a President, Vice President and to fill many important local offices. The churches of Morrow are keeping their doors open Election Eve and Election Day for voters wishing prayerful guidance in making their decisions.

The churches, all located in Morrow are: Morrow Methodist, First Baptist of Morrow, Morrow Presbyterian and St. Augustine's Episcopal Church. Their doors will be open from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. Election Eve and 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Election Day.

Those wishing the Lord's guidance are cordially invited to stop by.

Civic Groups Gain Support Of Morrow Citizens

On Saturday, Nov. 23, representatives of the civic organizations in Morrow solicited money from its merchants and citizens. Almost everyone contacted expressed an interest in the Community Improvement Project at the railroad on Main Street. Approximately 85% of those asked made contributions and the remainder pledged support at a later date.

Since 1965 the Morrow Junior Woman's Club, the Morrow Kiwanis Club and the Morrow Lions Club have worked diligently toward the completion of this project. During the past years these organizations have made cash contributions, sponsored money-making projects and devoted many hours in planning and gaining approval.

In the upcoming weeks work will once again resume on this project. Beginning at the crossing near the Presbyterian Church and continuing toward the center of town the land will be graded and sown in grass seed. Later trees, shrubs and flower beds will be added as the money becomes available.

These civic clubs will be pleased to accept contributions and any assistance offered. Please contact any member if you are interested in this project or you may send your check to Morrow Community Improvement Program, P. O.

Morrow Improvement Project Moves Ahead

By combining the efforts of the Morrow Jr. Woman's Club, the Morrow Kiwanis Club and the Morrow Lions Club in 1965, the Main Street railroad crossing has been much improved. However, additional and far greater phases are yet to be completed on this project.

For this reason, representatives of these civic organizations will begin asking help of all merchants and citizens in the area. The clubs will try to contact as many people as possible in the hope this endeavor will soon be completed. Plans are now under way for the next step; watch for its progress; and contact any member of these civic organizations if you care to make a contribution.

Morrow Jrs. Hold Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Morrow Junior Woman's Club was held Thursday, November 21, at the Morrow First Baptist Church. Mrs. Connie Keefe brought the devotional, "Beattitudes for Parents," followed by silent prayer, the club collect and the pledge to the Flag.

Mrs. Ellen Johnson introduced Mr. Jim Williams, Regional Director of the National Education Association in the Southeast. Mr. Williams, a resident of Forest Park and past principal of Forest Park Junior High, spoke on the program of today and of the future.

Mrs. Neal Lawson collected saving stamps from the club members to send to Project Concern in Southeast Asia.

Mrs. Judy Nolen reminded each member of the contest to name the club newsletter. A prize will be awarded to the winner at the Christmas party. The party will be held December 12 at the Mark Inn.

Defensive Driving Course Sponsored in Morrow

The Public Affairs Dept. of the Morrow Junior Woman's Club is sponsoring a Defensive Driving Course Jan. 18 and 25. The Saturday morning classes will be held at Lake Harbin Elementary School library from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Instructors will be from the Greater Atlanta Traffic and Safety Council.

The 8 hour Defensive Driving Course is class instruction for licensed drivers. It will be given in two 4-hour sessions. Twenty people are required to hold a class and up to 40 may be accepted.

When we consider the enormity of our death toll on the highway, a large number of these in the Metropolitan Area, it makes considerable sense that everyone be trained to stay alive.

Driving, today, is not "kid stuff". We need to be adults emotionally and to know our laws along with continual development of skill in driving. Statisticians tell us that one out of every two persons alive today either has been involved in a motor vehicle accident in which he has suffered a disabling injury, or will be in-involved in a motor vehicle accident at some future time which will result in his disability or death.

We are all quite sure we know how to drive. The figures of death and disability say by their very number that we all have a lot to learn and continue learning.

This course is open to the public and the charge is $2 per student. Clubs and private individuals are urged to participate in this valuable service to the community. For application please call Mrs. Gay, 366-0419, Mrs. Adams, 366-6417 or Mrs. McDaniel 366-1549. The fee is to cover the expenses of the course.

Defensive driving is not a "trade secret" of a few professional drivers, you will learn some facts that might easily save your life.

Free Press-News & Farmer, Thurs., Jan. 16, 1969

Morrow Juniors to Sponsor Defensive Driving Course

Under the auspices of the Atlanta Traffic and Safety Council, the Morrow Junior Woman's Club will hold two four-hour courses on Defensive Driving at Lake Harbin Elementary School on Saturday, January 18th and on Saturday, Jan. 25th, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The cost per person for the course will be $2.00, and instructors will be provided from Ford Motor Co. and Ft. MacPherson.

The club wishes to emphasize the importance of this type of course for the benefit of all drivers, and all teenaged drivers are especially invited to attend. Anyone wanting to brush up on his or her driving skills will receive benefits from the course, also.

For further information, contact Mrs. Gay, 366-0419.

Junior Clubwomen Nominate Mrs. Davis For Watts Trophy

The Morrow Junior Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, Jan. 23, in the Community Room of the Citizen's Bank of Clayton County. Mrs. John Adams, President, presided and Mrs. Val Sterzik gave an inspiring devotional.

The Fine Arts Department was in charge of the program for the evening and Mrs. Val Sterzik introduced Mrs. Mary Tondee, Director of Women's Division of the Clayton County Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Tondee spoke on "Meditations for the New Year". She gave thoughts and goals to strive for in 1969.

Special guest was Mrs. Bobby Anderson of Jonesboro, Sixth District Home Life Chairman, Division Junior Conference Chairman International Clubs, and President of the Jonesboro Junior Woman's Club.

Mrs. J. B. Davis was chosen as the Irene J. Watts Nominee.

This award is given to the outstanding Junior clubwoman in the state, who, in the opinion of the judges, has served her club, community, church and home well.

Mrs. E. L. Huie was the club's nominee for Mother of the Year. Other nominees include the Family of the Year, the John Adams Family; Mrs. Georgia Nominee, Mrs. James Bell; and Mrs. Bob Gay for the Clara Jordan 100% Good Citizen Award. This award is a Junior Conference award and is given at the spring convention.

Mrs. Bob Gay, Public Affairs Chairman, announced there would be a Day in Court for the Ladies on Feb. 19. Mrs. Dutch Young announced an essay contest in the 5th and 6th grades of the Morrow Elementary School and the Lake Harbin School on the subject "Why I Believe in Purchasing Savings Stamps." Prizes will be given for the best essays.

Mrs. Nel Lawson, International Affairs Chairman, asked members to bring used eye-glasses to be reprocessed for the needy overseas; also to bring in small articles such as writing paper to be sent by the Red Cross to boys in Vietnam.

Hostesses for the meeting were; Rue Powers, Beverly Bond, Mary Ellington, Wanda Fincher, Jeanette Newton, and Val Sterzik.

Mrs. Bobbie Gay, Morrow, Is 'Citizen of the Year'

Mrs. R. P. Gay has been selected to represent the Morrow Junior Woman's Club as "Citizen of the Year." Mrs. Gay has been an active member of the club for several years, is past Youth Chairman and now Public Affairs Chairman. Under her leadership, the Public Affairs Department has sponsored a defensive driving course, sells savings stamps at both elementary schools, sponsored an essay contest at the schools, with U. S. Savings Bonds given as prizes; and has presented American flags to the schools.

Mrs. Bobbie Gay is the wife of Bob Gay and they have three children, Rod, Sandra and Lisa. She is employed by The Forest Park Free Press. She is a member of the First Baptist Church, Morrow-Lake

MRS. R. P. GAY

City Ladies Auxiliary, and the Morrow-Lake City Recreation Association. At present, she is building fund chairman of the Recreation Association. Mrs. Gay stated that her main objective, as a good citizen, is to help raise money for the new property purchased by the Morrow-Lake City Recreation Association.

The Morrow Junior Woman's Club salutes you, Mrs. Gay, for your outstanding role in our community.

Club Cites Mrs. Jeff Davis

The Morrow Junior Women's Club has nominated Mrs. Jeff B. Davis for the Wyche award. Mrs. Davis was selected in 1968 as "Club Woman of the Year". As chairman of the Public Affairs Department her objective was to sell America as it has never been sold before, to stress patriotism and to be concerned with the community, state and nation's deficiencies.

She planned various projects and activities and with cooperation from committee and club members they were accomplished; Ditty Bags for soldiers in Viet Nam were filled and given to the Red Cross; letters written to legislators urging passage of measures relating to highway safety, better and more law enforcement, and observance of May 30th as Memorial Day; there were requests made to local merchants to remove pornography from their stores; requests were also made to the City of Morrow to vote, to the City of Morrow to purchase litter containers; club members were urged and reminded to vote, attend council meetings, display American Flags, have annual health check-ups and support all community projects; and there were contributions from the Public Affairs Department to the Community Improvement Project at the railroad, the Recreation Association and the Mental Health Association. Through her efforts an American Flag was presented to the City of Morrow.

Her committee continued to serve the community by providing a wide assortment of reading material for club members; the sponsoring of a Voter Registration; organizing with other civic clubs a "Meet Your Candidate Night"; a collecting of gifts for Milledgeville and Gracewood; providing Clayton County high school counsellors with kits for graduating seniors; and by publically recognizing the fine Morrow Volunteer Fire Department's efforts.

Just recently Mrs. Davis personally solicited $140.00 from Morrow merchants for the Community Improvement Project. Her committee plans to work on the flower area this spring and are presently sponsoring a clean-up month for March. Monies have been set aside to provide trees for the new elementary school under construction on Morrow Road.

She has been able to assist in other projects of the various departments of the club as well as her own and has given time to her church and the local schools. For the past two summers she has worked in Vacation Bible School and is telephone chairman of her WSCS circle. She has been a room mother for four years having been chairman twice, and has been active in volunteer health drives for Clayton County.

CLAYTON COUNTY JOURNAL, Wednesday, February 19, 19692B

Mrs. Davis Nominated

The Morrow Junior Womans Club has nominated Mrs. Jeff B. Davis (Joann) for the Irene J. Watts award (Outstanding Clubwoman of the Year). As chairman of the Public Affairs Department her objective was to sell America, to stress patriotism and to be concerned with our community, state and nation.

She planned various projects and activities to serve the community, sponsoring a voter registration drive, organization "Meet the Candidate Night", collecting gifts for Milledgeville and Gracewood, recognizing the fine efforts of the Morrow Volunteer Fire Department, showing film "The Land We Love," at the two elementary schools to over 1600 children and collected two boxes of items needed by the Red Cross, just to name a few.

Mrs. Davis is currently Community Improvement Chairman and has personally solicited $140.00 from Morrow merchants for the Improvements. Her committee plans to work on the flower area this spring and are presently sponsoring a clean-up month for March. Monies have been set aside to provide trees for the new elementary school under construction on Morrow Road.

She has assisted in all club projects and has given time to her church and the school. She is truly an Outstanding Clubwoman and one that others look to for inspiration.

John Adams Family

The Morrow Junior Woman's Club nominee for Georgia Federation Family of the Year Silver Award is the John W. Adams Family. John and Virginia have two children, John, Jr., age 21 and Jenny, age 5.

Mr. Adams is retired from the military service after 20 years of duty and is now employed at The Atlanta Army Depot in the medical maintenance division as a Medical Equipment Repairer. Mr. Adams, along with his wife, are very active in the First Baptist Church of Morrow. He is currently serving on the Board of Deacons, Superintendent of the Primary Department in Sunday School, Director of the Intermediate Training Union, and also serves on various other committees of the church.

Mrs. Adams' first love is homemaking, but she is engaged in many activities in addition to those of being a devoted wife and mother. She is currently serving as president of the Morrow Junior Woman's Club. She previously has held the office of the First Vice President and Publicity Chairman in the Club. Other responsibilities include Womans Missionary Union Director, teacher of Young Married Ladies in Sunday School, Secretary of Adult Training Union, serves on the Kindergarten Committee and other committees all in the First Baptist Church of Morrow.

John, Jr., is a Senior at Georgia Southern College in Statesboro where he is majoring in music. Johnny is a member of the College Philharmonic Choir, active in the Baptist Student Union, a member of the Baptist Student Union Choir, and a member of the choir of the First Baptist Church of Statesboro. Johnny plays several musical instruments which includes the piano, organ, accordion, and harpsichord.

Jenny is too young to be involved in too many activities but enjoys Sunbeams, choir and other church activities for her age group.

Each member of the family with their own interest—Mr. Adams, golf, Mrs. Adams, sewing, John Jr., music, Jenny, anything that's fun reveals their ability to have an active fruitful life outside the home without distracting at all from their home lives and activities as a family unit.

Their devotion to each other is best exemplified by their devotion to God, and their love of God and all fellow men is quite evident to all who know them.

Nominates Adams Family

The Morrow Junior Woman's Club nominee for Georgia Federation Family of the Year Silver Award is the John W. Adams family. They have two children, John Jr., 21, and Jenny, 5.

Mrs. Adams is president of the Morrow Junior Woman's Club. She has also served as first vice president and publicity chairman in the club. She is Womans Missionary Union Director, teacher of young married ladies in Sunday School, secretary of adult training union, serves on the kindergarten committee and other committees of the First Baptist Church in Morrow.

Mrs. Huie Is Nominee For 'Mother of Year'

Mrs. Edward L. Huie, Jr., is the Morrow Junior Woman's Club nominee for the "Mother of the Year." Mrs. Huie is known throughout her local vicinity and parts of Georgia for her community activities and her work with PTA and 4-H Clubs.

Mrs. Huie and her husband and son reside at 6114 Huie Drive in Morrow. They have a daughter who is a junior at the University of Georgia.

Mrs. Huie has been an active community worker and a firm supporter and leader of our young people. Having been a school teacher, she is well aware of some of the problems of our youth but one can tell she actively supports our youth and their efforts to be useful citizens. She has worked for many years with the PTA in our local schools and with the 4-H Clubs. She led a course at Rock Eagle this past year on public speaking for members of the 4-H Clubs. She is a very active member of the Philadelphia Presbyterian Church where she is presently serving as a teacher for a Ladies Bible Class, Church Secretary and Bible Moderator for her woman's circle.

Mrs. Huie and her husband, who is the Manager of the Clayton County Water Authority, are very civic minded. Mr. Huie is a former Mayor of Morrow and Mrs. Huie has shouldered many civic responsibilities.

Although she leads a most active life, Mrs. Huie has not neglected her home or children. A mother's life revolves around her home and family and Mrs. Huie has these and other traits everyone associates with a "mother."

We of the Morrow Junior Woman's Club are honored to recommend her as "Mother of the Year."

Morrow Club Calls For 'Clean-Up'

The Morrow Junior Woman's Club has designated the entire month of March as CLEAN-UP MONTH.

The club's community improvement committee has requested merchants, civic groups, and all citizens to take a small amount of time toward the improvement of their surroundings.

In connection with Clean-Up Month, club members plan to work on the joint community project at the railroad and again have asked the City of Morrow for some type of litter containers.

"With the rapid growth of the Morrow area, it seems very necessary that at least a few containers be purchased soon. All citizens of our community would like for Morrow to speak proudly of itself in its attitude and appearance," a committee member said today.

Mrs. John Adams Elected President MJWC

The Morrow Junior Woman's Club held its regular meeting Thursday, Feb. 27 at the Citizens Bank of Clayton County.

Mrs. Mary Cooper brought a very meaningful devotional followed by the club collect, pledge to the flag and the roll call.

Mrs. Bobbie Gay introduced the speaker for the night, Mr. Harley Strong who works with the Civil Defense Unit in Clayton County. The CD Unit is made up of 23 teenage boys who have participated actively in all phases of CD training. Two of the boys told of their underwater survival training and other phases of their training and work. Mrs. Gay, on behalf of the club, presented Mr. Strong with a check to help further the work of the unit.

The club then heard reports from various departments:

Mrs. Fay Morgan of the Home Life Department reported that the sewing contest will be March 8.

Mrs. Phyllis Lawson, International Affairs Department, asked for members to give their writing tablets and popcorn to her to send to Evacuation Hospitals through the Red Cross.

Mrs. Charlotte Scurry, club parliamentarian presented a revised version of the by-laws which were approved.

The club then elected officers to serve for the 1969-70 year. The following were elected: President: Mrs. John Adams; First Vice President—Mrs. Rudolph Johnson; Second Vice President Mrs. D. L. Shirley, Jr.; Recording Secretary Mrs. Dutch Young; Corresponding Secretary Mrs. Buck Martin and Treasurer—Mrs. J. C. Bell. The Morrow Junior Woman's Club salutes these officers and pledges our support for the coming club year.

rett, Mrs. Jerry Turner and Mrs. Bobby Anderson in their spring paper dresses' display the florensence theme decorations.

The GFWC 6th District spring business meeting was held at the Officers Club of the Atlanta Army Depot Tuesday. The Jonesboro Junior Woman's Club welcomed spring and the 6th District GFWC members dressed in their spring ensembles. The theme of the meeting was "Florensence" and the club was decorated with all the bright pinks, yellows, lavendars, blues and greens of spring. Table decorations were large banners sprayed green-gold and topped with large balls of pastel net each filled with grapes and chiffon butterflies and bugs.

The head table featured large banners with candles accented with yellow grapes and ivy. Small apothecary jars filled with jelly, tied with a yellow ribbon and a butterfly on the edge, were used as individual favors. The program matched the hostesses' spring costumes and were in the shape of a butterfly.

Mrs. Stanley Wooton gave the devotional and Mrs. Ronnie Byars said the grace. The Sears Roebuck CIP film, "The Power of a Woman", was shown during the program. Highlight of the day was the spring fashion show of costumes made and modeled by the club women and a home decorating show of hand made items.

Many awards were presented to various GFWC and individual members. The award winners will appear in the next issue of the Clayton County Journal.

Morrow Junior Woman's Club Coffee

The Morrow Junior Woman's Club held their "Get Acquainted" coffee, for prospective members, March 8, at the Morrow Elementary School Auditorium with the theme "Spring Bonnets". The theme was carried out with a display of spring hats. The auditorium was beautifully decorated in the new spring fashion colors of red, white and blue. The tables had center pieces of doll cakes dressed in dresses of red, white and blue. The serving table had a huge doll cake dressed in a red, white and blue dress.

The welcome was given by Mrs. Ola Levins, with a reading of "What is a Woman's Club". This was followed by a brief history of the club by Mrs. Jane Young.

The highlight of the program was the fashion show, sponsored by the Home Life Department, under leadership of Mrs. Faye Morgan. These spring fashions were made and modeled by the following club members, Mrs. Estelle Bell, Rue Powers, Cherie Crisp, Judy Nolan, Marlene Martin and Jo Ann Carlson. First and second prizes were given for the construction of the garments first prize going to Mrs. Rue Powers with second prize going to Judy Nolan.

The center pieces were given as door prizes.

APRIL MEETING

Local GFWC Members At Jekyll Conclave

The Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs will hold its 73rd annual convention at Carriage Inn, Jekyll Island, April 28, 29, and 30. Theme for this convention will be "Opening Doors to Community Service Throughout the World".

Mrs. Charles Wood, Jr., Macon, junior director, will preside over the junior conference annual business meeting and luncheon on Monday, April 28 at 1 p.m.

Members of the Jonesboro Junior Woman's Club attending the convention include: President Mrs. Bobby Anderson and Mrs. Jerry Turner, Mrs. Ronnie Byars, Mrs. Bill Alexander, Mrs. Douglas Garrett, Mrs. Ellis Conkle, Mrs. Charles Banks, Mrs. Thomas Hassey, Mrs. Stanley Wooton, Mrs. Charles Cox and Mrs. John Rhey.

Members of the Morrow Junior Woman's Club at the convention include: President Mrs. John W. Adams and Mrs. M. P. Scurry, Mrs. David Levins and Mrs. James Bing.

Members of the Forest Park Junior Woman's Club at the convention include President Mrs. T. Goodlett and Mrs. Glen Wetmore, past president.

An International Arts Festival has been planned for Monday evening with federation members attending in foreign costume. "Laugh In" will be presented by the Macon Junior Woman's Club and special music by the state junior chorus will be featured. Following this festival junior conference members will gather for "Juniors' Frolic".

Tuesday morning, April 29, there will be a fashion show breakfast to honor the district winners and judges. This will be followed by a parliamentary procedure class to be conducted by Mrs. Eric A. Esche, Marietta.

Tuesday luncheon will feature Georgia Fashions by Georgia Homemakers, Mrs. John C. Rhey, Jonesboro, moderator. Special guest of the federation will be Mrs. Billie Trovell, Southeastern Fair, and Mrs. Leonard Nance, Augusta, 1968 Georgia Homemaker. Mrs. James W. Stanford, Forest Park, will serve as moderator for the Home Life Panel.

Highlight of the Tuesday banquet will be a direct open telephone conversation with Mrs. Walter V. Magee, GenFWC president.

The Brunswick Jr. College Chorale directed by Kirby Rogers and accompanied by Miss Becky Sorrow will provide special music during the Wednesday luncheon. Presentation of the top Georgia Federation awards will be made at the final session of the convention.

A SUN MEETING

GaFWC Nears Convention

Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs will open its 73rd annual convention Monday, April 28, at 1 p.m. with the Junior Conference annual business meeting luncheon.

The convention which continues through Wednesday, April 30, will be held at Jekyll Island.

During the Junior Conference event awards will be given to the junior clubs and individuals who have been outstanding during the past year.

ONE OF THE highlights of the convention will be an address by Dr. James Turpin, founder and president of Project Concern. Dr. Turpin will speak at the Wednesday, April 30, luncheon.

Project Concern has been adopted as a project of the Junior Conference. It is a non-profit medical relief organization working in Hong Kong, South Vietnam, Mexico and Tennessee.

Its activities include four clinics in the British Crown Colony of Hong Kong, the most unique being the floating clinic which serves more than 40,000 boat people in Kowloon Bay.

IN SOUTH VIETNAM a 42-bed hospital and out-patient clinics in 25 villages are serviced by Project Concern.

Dr. Turpin is a native of Ashland, Ky. He served as an enlisted man in the United States Navy and did his internship at Crawford W. Long Hospital in Atlanta, and resi-

International Organization Affairs, will speak at the closing banquet Wednesday, April 30.

Mr. Popper was named to his position in September of 1965. A native of New York City, he first joined the Department of State in 1945 as a specialist in international organization affairs. He has held a number of department posts relating to the United Nations and other organizations including director of the Office of United Nations Political and Security Affairs.

IN 1956 he was appointed deputy United States Representative to international organizations in Geneva. From 1959 to 1961, he was deputy United States representative to the conference on discontinuance of nuclear weapons tests in Geneva.

Mr. Popper was appointed to the permanent United States mission to the United Nations in September 1961, as senior advisor on disarmament affairs where he served until assuming his duties as director of Office of Atlantic Political and Military Affairs.

FEELING SKITTISH

GaFWC Gals Burst Their Stays

JEKYLL ISLAND—It was "Club it to me time" when the Macon Junior Woman's Club entertained at the 73d annual convention of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs.

The Junior Women did a takeoff on Laugh-In that had members attending the banquet roaring with laughter at lines such as, "Club it to me" and "Here come de pres."

Mrs. W. B. (Mary Wade) Mitchell, state president, was the subject of gags like "If Mary Wade married Garry Moore, she'd be Mary Wade Moore and where does Mary Wade?"

Mrs. Charles (Doris) Wood, junior conference director, was also included in the script with, "If Doris Wood married Gregory Peck, she would be Doris Wood Peck."

THE WOMEN included notes from the various departments of work such as the home life department, when one junior said to another, "What a perfectly stunning dress, my dear. Didn't they have the pattern in your size?"

The skit ended with, "Now for a late word—midnight."

The evening was relaxed with the convention getting away from the formal and semiformal dress. Members came dressed in foreign costumes to carry out the international art theme.

MEMBERS OF MANY clubs dressed alike and sat in a group. Moultrie Junior Woman's Club wore costumes made of a cheap material with CARE stenciled across the front. CARE is a project of the Junior conference.

Mrs. Marion Hickey of the Perkerson Park Woman's Club of Atlanta dressed like someone from the moon and won the costume prize. Mrs. Jerry D. Peters of Brunswick, president-elect of the Federation, immediately presented Mrs. Hickey with a charter for a club on the moon.

Mrs. Peters also has charge of membership and feels with the progress in getting to the moon a woman's club will soon be in order there.

LATER IN the evening, members of the Junior conference got together for their annual frolics, in which a spoof of a club meeting was presented. It was prefaced with, "The skit is all in fun, but you might recognize yourself in some of the things said." Half were freezing and half were warm; half were yelling, "Turn up the heat!" while the other half were yelling, "Turn it off!"

The major business of the meeting was to decide on a money making project. It was suggested that they have a lecture on a profound subject and get a professor from Tallulah Falls School to speak on, "Ancient Hieroglyphics" or "The Love Life of the Bee." The idea was voted down, as was the suggestion to have a card party. Seems as if the last card party wasn't enjoyed by some of the members, particularly the one who had a partner trump her ace.

They decided finally to have a dinner because everyone loves to eat.

ONE OF THE highlights of the Tuesday banquet was a panel discussion on safety featuring Dean Dickins, Sam Philips and Al Reddick.

Miss Dickins of the Atlanta Traffic and Safety Council stressed that individuals can save lives and prevent injuries.

"Think what you can do as a group," she said. "Your power is tremendous. Death on the highways is a disease. It can only be stopped by every individual working on it. There won't be a Salk vaccine for highways deaths. It must begin with you. You can become a better driver by taking the defensive driving course. Everybody thinks they know how to drive, but take the defensive driving course and you KNOW you'll be a better driver."

MR. PHILIPS of the Teen-age Safety Council said teenagers and safety are one of the biggest problems. The Council is a division of the Georgia Safety Council.

"The Teen-age Council has seven members," he said. "A long-range plan is to have a teen-age safety program in every high school. Our organization is one year old, and you, as clubs, can help. We are having a safety conference and we hope clubs will contact local high school principals for the names of students who want to attend.

"You can help. If schools in your area don't have a teen-age safety council, you can start one. If your school has such a council, support it."

Mr. Reddick, director of All-state Foundation, spoke on legislation and safety. He asked the women to continue their safety projects and talk with their legislators about safety programs for the state.

Mrs. Michell urged all clubwomen to get behind re-examination for drivers' licenses and to recognize their own limitations.

OOPS! THE MISHAPS!

GFWC Holds Meet at Seaside

By JEAN TYSON
Atlanta Journal Club Editor

JEKYLL ISLAND—Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs members have again mobilized at Georgia's year-round playground for a few days of fun, play and a little work.

More than 500 women have come to Jekyll Island to attend the 73rd annual convention of the state organization.

Seventh District (Marietta area) members planned the convention at home and brought it to the ocean—but not without a few minor problems.

The Town and Country Junior Woman's Club of Marietta had charge of making the tote bags to be given as convention favors.

"We started making them out of a material lined in black," said Mrs. Chester Slater, immediate past president of the club. "I don't know how many we finished before we discovered the black was rubbing off on everything; we had to start over.

"WE GLUED little flags on the bags, and when we finished, someone knocked over a bottle of glue we were using and it spilled on a carpet I had down just a week. I called the chemical manufacturing company that made the glue and asked what to do. I was told to put water on it and keep it wet. I poured three buckets of water on the carpet. Then I had to rent a commercial machine to get the water out of the carpet. It worked and there wasn't a spot left."

The club with 29 members made 600 bags and it was the job of the Marietta Junior Woman's Club to fill them with souvenirs.

"We had 30 items to put in," Mrs. Oliver Studstill, president, said. "We packed the items in plastic bags and planned to bring them to Jekyll in a station wagon, but they wouldn't fit. So we had to rent a trailer to bring them down.

"I'VE NEVER pulled a trailer and was afraid to try. So my husband drove the car down with the trailer and then caught the bus home."

The Town and Country Club had charge of a dummy to bring down. They call it a naked lady, but they also call her Matilda. She had to model a bridal gown made by Mrs. George Marcinko for the Creative Home Decorating show.

"We have taken Matilda everywhere," Mrs. Slater said. "She went to the district meeting and when her dress won, we had to bring her here. The gown looks better on her than just hanging."

A local department store let the club borrow the manikin. She was too large to fit into the car, so she traveled in pieces — head on the floorboard, legs on the back seat and arms in the trunk.

The Marietta Juniors had another problem planning a convention 325 miles from home.

FOR THE International Arts banquet the women wanted a large map of the world to put on a wall at the Aquarama. Several members met at the home of Seventh District President Mrs. Ronald Cofer to make the map.

"We took 35 pieces of poster paper," Mrs. Cofer said, "and spread it out on the floor. One girl literally stood on her head to draw the map. Then we used 7 pounds of glitter and 3 pounds of glue to cover the map. When we finished, her home was permanently decorated for Christmas."

MRS. OLIVER STUDSTILL, MARIETTA, PACKS TOTE BAGS They Created Problem in Bringing Them to Jekyll

The women stacked the pieces and brought them here. Then there was the problem of getting them up onto the brick wall. The maintenance crew at the Aquarama came through and nailed wooden poles to the walls so that the women could staple the mural.

MOST of Monday was spent setting up exhibits such as Creative Home Decorating show. This is something new this year that came from the General Federation of Women's Clubs to get women more interested in creative home-making.

Mrs. John C. Rhey of Jonesboro is state chairman of the division which is in the Home Life department. The contest has three categories: Creative Home Furnishings, Crafts and Sewing and Needlework.

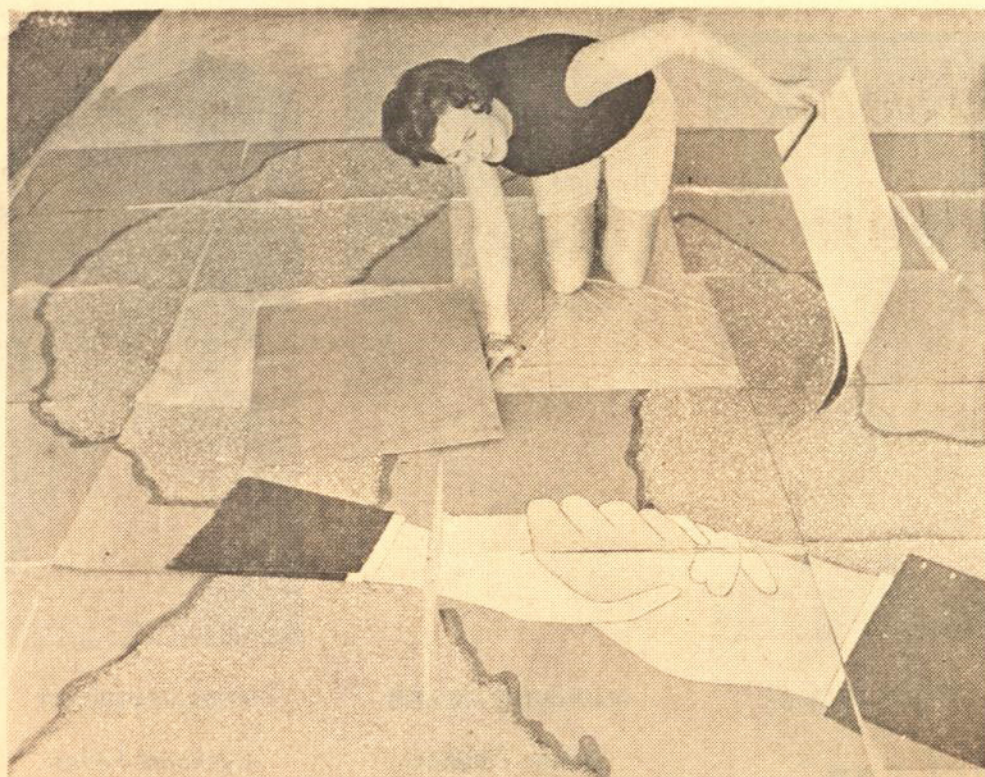

Women who entered the event have been working with youth groups and teaching them in these categories.

MRS. RHEAY also has charge of the Creative Costume competition with 18 women participating. These women have created costumes which they feel are ideal for clubwomen to wear to club luncheons and meetings. They will be judged on the way they fit and the accessories used.

Tuesday's activities included a series of panel discussions on the seven departments of work of the Federation. These discussions were requested by members so that they can learn where they can serve best.

Mrs. J. T. Hobdy of Rome and Mrs. Walter A. Gresh of Marietta are convention chairmen.

Awards Named At GaFWC Meet

JEKYLL ISLAND—Mrs. F. Tatum Fletcher of Brunswick, has been named the Irene J. Watts Award winner during the Junior Conference meeting of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs convention.

As president of the Brunswick Junior Woman's Club, she has made the Tallulah Falls School committee a part of the education department which means the committee is an integral part of club work all year instead of a one shot group. She made the Community Improvement Program part of the public affairs department rather than being an isolated committee as in the past.

SHE HAS been involved with the City Recreation Department and through her club's support a thriving arts program has become a permanent part of the city's recreation. She was one of six members to draw up by-laws of the Fine Arts Council of Brunswick and is presently serving on its board of directors.

New projects started under her leadership this year include work with the local Boys' Club holding weekly workshops on arts and crafts, co-sponsoring with the Recreation Department a local artist day and a study in pastels by a local artist, a traveling art exhibit was compiled and taken to each elementary school in the county.

Her club supports a new community program called "Operation Appreciation." Each month 25 Vietnam veterans from the hospital at Ft. Gordon are treated to a weekend at Jekyll Island.

SHE DIRECTED a play at the Children's Theatre, sponsored by the club and cast all 14 parts from community tryouts.

She was concerned with the threat of violent sex type films being shown at a local theater and she did research on the movies. She visited the theater manager, city police chief, city marshal, called Atlanta office of theater bookings and as a result the films were cancelled.

During the same meeting Mrs. Russell Cates of Albany was named the 100 per cent good citizen for the Junior Conference. She has served her club, Albany Suburban Junior Woman's Club, as drama and literature chairman, recording secretary and president. Mrs. Cates has been the Junior Conference home life chairman and the state sewing contest chairman.

SHE BAKES cakes for the Albany USO once a month and works at Dougherty County Clothing Room and participates in the U.S. Department of Agriculture peanut tasting program once a week.

Her other activities include member of Chamber of Commerce and Governmental Affairs Committee, immediate past president and vice president of the Easter Seal Guild, serves as a tour guide and provides secretarial help at the Southwest Georgia Rehabilitation Center and is a member of the board of governors of the Georgia Society of Crippled Children.

SHE DOES volunteer work with the American Red Cross, serves as school nurse once a month and works at the local hospital once a week, is pianist at Dougherty County Kiwanis Club each week, a member of the Albany Republican Women, Lake Park PTA, member of the newly formed Albany Symphony Guild and is a Cub Scout den mother.

The first in a long list of awards to be presented to clubs during the three day meeting were given at the Monday luncheon of the Junior Conference.

Macon Junior Woman's Club won the Junior Conference Extension Award and the Georgia Junior Conference Project—Share Our Substance Award. The club also won the General Federation of Women's Clubs Operation Healthy Babies Award for clubs with a membership over 45 and the Warner Robins Junior Woman's Club took the award for clubs under 45 members.

GaFWC Names Wootton Family

JEKYLL ISLAND—The Stanley Wootton family of Jonesboro was named Family of the Year Tuesday during the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Wootton and their two sons believe in doing things as a family. They have made a two-room home into an eight-room one themselves. They have remade many pieces of antique furniture and they farm with everyone having chores.

Mrs. Wootton serves as director of Junior Girls Choir and sings in the adult choir. She is beginning a mission study group for young marrieds at the Jonesboro First Baptist Church. She is a charter member and secretary of Suder PTA, member of the Jonesboro Home Demonstration Club, United Daughters of the Confederacy and Jonesboro Junior Woman's Club.

MR. WOOTTON is active in the Masons, Shriners, PTA and is a Lt. Col. on the Governor's Staff. He works with the Cub Scouts, hunts, fishes, restores clocks and makes model planes. He is secretary of a Sunday school class and serves on the building and ground committee at his church.

The family was sponsored in the contest by the Jonesboro Junior Woman's Club.

Other awards given during the Tuesday luncheon include Annalene Nelson silver bowl for most outstanding work in family economics, East Point Junior Woman's Club; Mental Health tray for most outstanding work in retardation and mental health, Macon Junior Woman's Club; Brunswick Junior Family Life, for outstanding work in promoting family togetherness, Jonesboro Junior Woman's Club; Mamie K. Taylor silver bowl for best overall excellence, Augusta Junior Woman's Club.

THE AUGUSTA JUNIORS also won the Tallulah Achievement Gavel for original and outstanding service to Tallulah Falls School. The Georgia Federation Tallulah Falls award went to St. Simon's Woman's Club.

The Augusta women revived the Susie Martin Achievement cup for best over-all excellence. Morrow Junior Woman Club won the Liberty Bell award for promotion of U.S. Savings Bonds. The Jonesboro Junior Club won the Hellice Clark Citizenship gavel for best work in promotion of citizenship, community wide, and the Columbus Junior Club won the Peggy G. Sammons Public Affairs silver award for over-all excellence.

THE MACON JUNIORS received an award from the National Association for Retarded Children's Crusade for Change for clubs in the over 45 members division. Cascade Junior Woman's Club was honored in the under 45 membership category.

The Louise Black McDougald Award went to the Carrollton Junior Woman's Club and the Brunswick Junior Family Life Award was won by the Jonesboro Junior Woman's Club.

During the International Arts Festival banquet Monday night Shelley Jean Powell was named the first place Penny Art winner. The high school student received a $600 scholarship. She was sponsored in the contest by the Decatur Woman's Club. Deborah Sue Vernon, sponsored by the North Clairmont Woman's Club, won a $400 scholarship, and Raymond Winfrey, sponsored by Sorosis of Athens, won a $200 scholarship. Mrs. J. W. Roton of the College Park Woman's Club won first place in the member art competition.

MRS. A. N. PATTON, a member of the Northside Woman's Club, won the Allie Bates Jolly Poetry Cup for her poem "Atlanta."

Columbus Junior Woman's Club won the Edith Adams Ritchie Education silver vase for best overall excellence.

They Urge Better Films for Youth

By JEAN TYSON

Atlanta Journal Club Editor

Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs delegates unanimously passed a Better Films for Youth resolution during the final day of the 73rd annual convention.

The resolution, which was written by the Augusta Junior Woman's Club, was introduced by Mrs. Joe J. Hewell Sr. of Atlanta, resolutions chairman.

THE CLUB said it was vitally concerned over pornography, obscenity and sexual abnormalities as the dominant theme in the motion picture industry today. The club reported that the new Motion Picture Association code of self-regulation is neither reliable nor being enforced, and statistics prove that the movie audiences are made up primarily of our youth in their formative years.

Mrs. Robert G. Lingenfelter, chairman of the Better Films for Youth Committee of the Augusta Junior Woman's Club, spoke on behalf of the resolution. She has four boys and four girls between the ages of 1 and 11.

"I can still select the movies my children see," she said, "because they are small, but I am concerned with movie theaters showing adult previews during a Walt Disney or other family type movie. I'm concerned with what teen-agers are seeing."

WHEN the Augusta club started the project, Georgia had no obscenity law to protect minors. However, April 2 of this year, Gov. Maddox signed Act No. 191 which deals with minors under 18 years of age. The act defined obscenity in detail and included not just movies, but literature and any other pornography.

"Our reason for working with better films concerns youth and not adults. We aren't trying to tell adults what to see or what not to, but we want to work with theater managers to keep minors out of theaters where Adults Only films are being shown."

Mrs. Lingenfelter said that from the very beginning her club has made this a community project. She set up a committee of outstanding community leaders. They went to movie managers in Augusta; told them they wanted to work with them and gave their grievances such as showing adults previews at a family movie.

"WE CONDUCTED a survey in Augusta's junior and senior high schools to see if the majority of those attending movies are minors. We found it to be true. We sent out 13,000 questionnaires to these students and they overwhelmingly named 'The Graduate' as the best picture they had seen.

"We asked theater managers to print the code as to what type movie they are showing, and we asked the newspapers to run a brief synopsis and rating of each movie playing the next week. We asked the managers to confine all real raw movies to one theater. And they agreed, but the movies leave this theater and go to the drive-ins. We asked that adult movies be shown in the downtown area, and family movies in the neighborhoods. The movie managers have agreed to do this whenever possible."

The club conducted a campaign to explain the green

sheet put out by the Motion Picture Industry which explains what movies are about and lets the public know what is being shown.

"We distributed 10,000 green sheets a month in Augusta for four months. We sent speakers to many PTA and civic group meetings explaining the green sheet and the type of movies minors are seeing.

"We stopped distributing the sheets because after four months we felt the public knew they could get the sheets at theaters in our area."

ROSEMARIE MARKGRAF, of the public relations department of the Motion Picture Industry of America, spent three days in Augusta at the request of the club speaking at meetings open to the general public.

"We wanted the public to hear the industry's side as to why they are making this type of adult movies. The industry is interested in what we are trying to do in Georgia, and I have received special delivery letter after letter from them," Mrs. Lingenfelter said.

"We can talk about dirty movies all the time, but it is time to stand up and do something. If we don't nip this in the bud now, it will be too late. We now have a bill on obscenity for the first time, but this bill won't be any good if people don't act on it.

"WE URGE club members to get to know their district attorneys, as complaints are to be filed with these officials. A theater manager will be given written notice and he will have 30 days to show no cause to the court.

"We have proclaimed May as Better Films for Youth Month to explain our new state law. We want to make it clear that minors will be prosecuted along with theater managers. We urge clubwomen to explain the new rating system of movies—G, M, R and X—and ask managers to use the rating system in their advertising and on their marquees.

"Women should meet with their local theater managers and let them know we are aware of the law and we want it enforced and will work with them."

Mrs. Wilton W. Stewart Sr. of Avondale Estates, president of the Fourth District, said she received a request from women in her area to do something about movies being shown.

"WE TALKED with our theater manager and he agreed not to show any more adult movies, but we, the clubwomen, didn't support his theater when he started showing family movies. He had to go back to showing adult movies to stay in business.

"If we ask him to stop showing dirty movies and he does, we have to support him and go to his theater when he shows good movies."

Brunswick Junior Woman's

Club requested a children's matinee in their area and at first were turned down. The manager finally agreed to try it for a month, but the women had to have at least 200 children attend. The club reported attendance has been between 500 and 1,000 each week and the matinees are continuing.

A group of clubs in the Brunswick area worked together to get a theater not to show an adult movie they learned was coming. Within 24 hours after they started to work, they received word the movie would not be shown.

A DELEGATE to the convention suggested that if women have not seen a dirty movie, women should see one so that they will know what the Federation is fighting.

Another delegate asked if the speaker could recommend one.

The speaker said she found "Vixen" was dirty and walked out on it.

Mrs. W. B. Mitchell, state president, said, "We shouldn't support this type movie when we hear it is dirty, but we need to know what they are like.

"Movies aren't the same as they were when most of us went in the '40s. Adults stay home and watch TV today," she said, "and see old movies. They're unaware of what is being shown to teen-agers in the theaters. I hope every club president in the state will write me during the next month and let me know what her club is doing to support Better Films for Youth Month."

With Worldly Concern

Let there be music from the fruited plains,
Which yield to the toilers hand.
Music from the azure skies - Over a peaceful land.
Let us hear songs of men whose faith has grown,
Tall as the Indian corn.
Songs that breathe a fervent prayer, for the land where they were born.
May kindness and forbearance make this (world) a glorious place. Where each man feels a brotherhood, Un-marred by creed or race.
May the songs of man inspire our deeds to be so designed.
That we may glorify our God and live to serve mankind.

As Local Color

If You're yearning for sun and sand,
We welcome you to a piece of land
The folks hereabouts call Isles So Golden.
For if rains come and thunder roars,
An hour later - blue skies galore!!
Just try us...It's no tall-tale we've woven.

St. Simon's rich in history - Christ Church and Bloody Marsh
Then right next door - Sea Island; it's luxurious, by gosh!

Don't miss Brunswick, our growing port;
Or Jekyll Island for year-round sport.
We're proud of our Golden Islands of Georgia!

From the mountains to the sea, where her rivers roll.
There I ever long to be, O, my heart, my soul.
By her meadows let me lie, In her vales remain,
Underneath her rooftree sky, Watch the seasons wane.

Georgia, land of our delight, Haven of the blest,
Here by happy day and night, Peace enthrones the breast.
Georgia, Georgia, dearest earth, Underneath the blue,
Clime that ever giveth birth to the brave and true.

HOMEWARD BOUND

MRS. ARNOLD HASTY is the victim as Mrs. Bob McNickols, left, Mrs. J. P. Bing, Mrs. John Adams, Mrs. Bobby Anderson, Mrs. T. Goodlett and Mrs. William Preto get in some practice at the Clayton County Jail.

Junior Woman's Clubs of Jonesboro, Morrow, Forest Park and Riverdale will join forces Saturday, May 17, to stage the Second Annual "Highway Robbery" with all proceeds to go to the Clayton County Cancer Unit. Club members working in their own area will dress in the proper "western" attire and distribute cancer fact sheets and collect "loot".

*CLAYTON COUNTY JOURNAL, Wednesday, May 7, 1969

Club Women To Stage 2nd Annual Robbery

Special Events Chairman of The goal for this countywide the Clayton County Cancer Unit, effort has been set at $2000. Mrs. Bobby Anderson, announces that the Second annual Highway Robbery to benefit the cancer unit will be held this year on a countywide basis. Contributing to this cause will be the Junior clubwomen of all four of the Federated Junior Clubs in Clayton County, the Jonesboro Juniors, the Morrow Juniors, the Forest Park Juniors and the new Riverdale Juniors.

The ROBBERS will gather at 10 a.m., May 17, and in their own respective areas will hold-up the traffic with all donations going to the Clayton County Cancer Unit and its 1969 Education-Funds-Crusade. Special cancer fact sheets will be distributed to each motorist regardless of donation. This effort is not only to gather the "loot" but also distribute life-saving material to as many people as possible. Last year this was done by the Jonesboro Juniors and the club netted $701.96.

Those in charge of each area are: Jonesboro, Mrs. John Rheay, Mrs. Bob McNichols; Morrow, Mrs. John Morgan; Forest Park, Mrs. Wm. Preto; Riverdale, Mrs. Dennis Thompson. The club members in each area will work shifts and will be clad in the proper duds of the old west, cowboy outfits, cowgirl suits, boots, ten-gallon hats and play guns.

Annual Spring Banquet

The annual Spring Banquet of the Morrow Junior Woman's Club was held recently at the Lakeshore Country Club in Jonesboro with approximately seventy persons present. After the delicious meal, Mr. Dave Padrick of Forest Park entertained the group with some comedy. Reverend Randall Williamson also entertained the group with two musical selections. He was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Homer Cooper.

Mrs. John Wright Smith, the Sixth District President, installed the new officers for next year using the theme "Opening Doors to Opportunity." The officers are President, Mrs. John W. Adams; First Vice President, Mrs. Rudolph Johnson; Second Vice President, Mrs. D. L. Shirley, Jr.; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. F. S. Martin; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Dutch Young; Treasurer, Mrs. James Bell.

Several awards were presented during the evening one of which was the Clubwoman of the Year Award, presented by the Home Life Department Chairman, Mrs. John Morgan to Mrs. John Adams. An award was given to the two outstanding departments for their work this past year. The awards were presented by Mrs. John Adams to the Public Affairs Department Chairman, Mrs. Bob Gay, and to the Home Life Department Chairman, Mrs. John Morgan. A certificate of honor was presented to Mrs. E. L. Huie, Jr. who was the club's nominee for Mother of the Year.

A COLLECT FOR CLUBWOMEN

Keep us, oh God, from pettiness;
Let us be large in thought, in word, in deed.

Let us be done with fault finding
And leave off self-seeking.

May we put away all pretense
And meet each other face to face,
Without self-pity and without prejudice.

May we never be hasty in judgement,
And always generous.

Let us take time for all things;
Make us grow calm, serene, gentle.

Teach us to put into action our better
Impulses; straightforward and unafraid.

Grant that we may realize it is
The little things that create differences,
That in the big things of life we are at one.

And may we strive to touch and to know
The great, common human heart of us all,
And, oh Lord God, let us forget not
To be kind.

Written by MARY STEWART in 1904, when, just out of college, she began her first job as principal of a high school in Colorado.

LESTER MADDOX
GOVERNOR

Greetings:

I want to take this opportunity to personally invite the people of Georgia and our distinguished out of state visitors to tour the new Executive Center.

The architecture of the new Executive Center reflects the Greek Revival style which was popular in Georgia and the nation in the first half of the nineteenth century.

Virginia and I, along with the rest of the family, want to welcome each of you and hope that what you see at the Center will reflect dignity, grace and charm on our State for which she so justly deserves.

After a visit to the Center, I hope that you will encourage your friends to visit this important piece of Georgia History.

Sincerely,

Georgia's First Family — Governor and Mrs. Lester G. Maddox

Georgia's First Family — Governor and Mrs. Lester G. Maddox

A Tour Through The New Executive Center

The architecture of the new Executive Center on West Paces Ferry Road in Atlanta reflects the Greek Revival style which was popular in Georgia and the nation in the first half of the nineteenth century. Historically, this style has been used on private homes as well as on public buildings. It is therefore particularly appropriate for this important building which will serve both as the residence of the Governor and his family and as the site of dinners, meetings, receptions and other official gatherings.

Thirty massive fluted columns surround the rectangular brick house and support a simple wood cornice. Ornamental details on both the exterior and the interior were also patterned on neo-classical designs. For the interior of the house, a valuable and noteworthy collection of early nineteenth century furnishings has been acquired. For the most part, these furnishings are American-made pieces in the neo-classical style, reflecting the same artistic preference as the mansion's Greek revival architecture.

To render the building comfortable and functional as a private and a public home, the architects arranged the rooms on the upper two stories so that the public living and dining rooms occupy the front or southern portion of the building while the family living quarters occupy the rear or northern end. Visible only from the rear of the mansion is a ground floor which consists of a large reception and dining room for five hundred guests, a kitchen, a laundry room, mechanical room, freezer lockers, garage and quarters for the security guards and other house staff members.

As one enters the Executive Center from the South, the entrance facing West Paces Ferry Road, he steps onto the marble floor of the state reception hall. This room is furnished sparingly with an octagonal veneered pedestal-base table, two cane-seated armchairs and bronze busts of George Washington and Benjamin Franklin, both by the noted French sculptor, Houdon. To the left is a guest bedroom furnished with an American-made sleigh bed, a late nineteenth century French wall panel depicting "Psyche showing her jewels to her sisters," and an early nineteenth century English needlework rug.

Also opening to the left from the reception hall is the state living room, a large room which measures approximately forty feet by twenty-five feet. The furnishings in this room are American-made pieces of the Federal period, 1790-1825. Among these are two marble-top pier tables, three mahogany candlestands, two pedestal-base pembroke tables, two armchairs, a chest of drawers and a sofa table. The two mahogany sofas are attributed to the workshop of Duncan Phyfe, a prominent cabinet-maker working in New York City early in the nineteenth century. Two mahogany swivel-top card tables are attributed to Charles Honore Lannuier, a talented Frenchman working in New York at the same time as Phyfe. Along one wall stands a magnificent English double break-front secretary-bookcase. On the opposite wall are two American-made eagle-top gilt mirrors. The handsome parquet floor is visible around an Aubusson carpet.

Moving clockwise toward the rear of the mansion, one enters the family living room which is paneled in butternut. The furnishings in this room include: an American Federal sofa, a saber-leg drinking table of Baltimore origin, two American Federal tub chairs, a bull's eye mirror and a secretary attributed to the Seymours, early nineteenth century cabinet-makers in Salem, Massachusetts. An Austrian Savonnerie rug covers the floor.

The antiques in the family dining room include an early nineteenth century chest of drawers, a dining table, two pine tables, six Phyfe-style sidechairs and a Chinese rug.

Continuing in a clockwise direction through the kitchen and pantry, one next enters the state dining room. Immediately visible is the extension dining table, made in America around 1810; this table can be opened to a length of fourteen feet. Placed around the table are eighteen chairs, modern reproductions of an unusual early nineteenth century American chair in the possession of The Telfair Academy of Arts and Sciences in Savannah, Georgia. A marble-top side table of New York City origin stands along the east wall beneath a Federal looking glass. Along the north wall is a handsome sideboard made in the Philadelphia area around 1815, similar in design to a chest of drawers along the opposite wall. Flanking the chest are two New York Phyfe-style tripod-base card tables with cloverleaf tops. An oriental carpet covers the floor.

LESTER MADDOX
GOVERNOR

Greetings:

I want to take this opportunity to personally invite the people of Georgia and our distinguished out of state visitors to tour the new Executive Center.

The architecture of the new Executive Center reflects the Greek Revival style which was popular in Georgia and the nation in the first half of the nineteenth century.

Virginia and I, along with the rest of the family, want to welcome each of you and hope that what you see at the Center will reflect dignity, grace and charm on our State for which she so justly deserves.

After a visit to the Center, I hope that you will encourage your friends to visit this important piece of Georgia History.

Sincerely,

Other rooms on the first floor include: a small library paneled in walnut and furnished with early nineteenth century American-made pembroke and pier tables, a backgammon table, two armchairs and a sofa; the ladies' powder room furnished with an American-made "Grecian" couch and an early nineteenth century card table; the main stair hall with a pier table attributed to Lannuier, an American looking glass, an urn decorated with a rare portrait of Benjamin Franklin, an early nineteenth century gilt wood and metal chandelier which formerly hung in the Standard Club in Atlanta, and a large portrait of Hugh McCall, first official historian of the State of Georgia.

The front central room on the second floor has been designated "The President's Suite" and will serve as a guest bedroom for visiting dignitaries. This important room is furnished with a Pennsylvania-made four-poster bed dating from the 1790's and an American Chippendale slant-top desk as well as a pedestal-base table, a card table, shield-back sidechairs, a sofa and a chest of drawers, all pieces of American and English origin dating from the early years of the nineteenth century. On the south wall hang portraits of Thomas Jefferson and James Monroe, works by an unknown artist. A nineteenth century Ushak carpet covers the floor.

Next to the President's suite is a small guest lounge furnished with a Federal-style sofa and a lady's writing desk, both believed to be of Massachusetts origin. The walls above two English card tables are decorated with Psyche panels similar to that in the guest bedroom on the first floor.

To the west of the Presidential suite is a guest bedroom. Noteworthy in this room are a reproduction English Chippendale four-poster bed with canopy and an English chest of drawers.

Continuing in a clockwise direction, one enters the Governor's study, paneled in oak, and the Governor's bedroom. The major pieces of furniture in the latter are a tester bed and a large English Regency gentleman's desk. American andirons stand beneath a wood mantel which was salvaged from the Robert Maddox residence, formerly on this property.

The First-Lady's bedroom is the central room at the northern end of the house. The bed, with an early nineteenth century French headboard, is flanked by two tables from the old Executive Mansion on Peachtree Street. Also in this room are a late eighteenth century French trumeau and a English satinwood baak table.

In the family sitting room are a sofa, an arm chair and tables, all pieces brought from the Ansley Park Executive Mansion, as well as some antique English pieces: two card tables, a chest of drawers and a secretary-bookcase with eglomise glass paneled doors.

Continuing in a clockwise direction toward the front of the house, one finds some early nineteenth century American and English pieces in the hall and two family bedrooms. Of particular importance are a handsome sideboard table, an American Chippendale-style slant-top desk, two American chests of drawers and three washstands also of American origin. Most of the carpets in these and other rooms on this floor were made in Georgia; notable exceptions are an American needlework rug and a Turkish rug both dating from the first half of the nineteenth century.

The First-Lady's office, on the southeast corner of the mansion, is furnished with English and American antique pieces dating from the late eighteenth century. Included here are a painted and gilt English sofa, a pembroke table, a serpentine-front chest of drawers and a desk. Displayed on the north and west walls are prints depicting early Georgia scenes.

In many of the mansion's rooms hang curtains styled after the fashions popular in England and America early in the nineteenth century. Reflecting the fashions of that same era are elegant antique chandeliers and handsome marble mantels of European origin and some distinctive Chinese and European porcelains. In addition, the Executive Center's collection includes paintings by the following distinguished eighteenth and nineteenth century American artists: Benjamin West, Ralph E. W. Earl, Thomas Doughty, John Neagle, Severin Roesen, Samuel King and Alvan Fisher.

The antiques used to furnish Georgia's new Executive Center have been selected with great care under the direction of Mr. Henry Green, a connoisseur of the American decorative arts and general chairman of the Fine Arts Committee for the Executive Mansion. These furnishings have been acquired from leading dealers in this country and form a collection of great merit, a collection in which all Georgians will take great pride.
