Stouffer's Hosts Christmas Ball

The 1976 Clayton Junior College Christmas Ball will be held on Wednesday evening, December 8, from 9:00 pm to 1:00 am at Stouffer's Hotel on West Peachtree Street in Atlanta. The seventh annual Christmas Ball is CJC's major social event of the year.

Sponsored by the General Entertainment Committee, the dance will feature "Eli", one of the major bands in the southeast. Originally from Tallahassee, Florida, "Eli" offers a wide variety of music, ranging from folk rock to slow melody.

Besides the high quality music, students and their guests will have the pleasure of snacking from an array of delicacies that will be offered at the event.

"Approximately $2,400 will be spent on the Christmas Ball", stated Gary Jester, Chairman of the General Entertainment Committee. Jester went on to state that the money comes from the student activities budget and that students "should take advantage of this entertaining use of their money".

Tickets for the dance, which will admit two persons, are available in the Dean of Students office and in the Student Government Office. A student need just present his student I. D. card and he can claim a ticket absolutely free of charge.

SNAG
Feeds
Needy

The CJC Chapter of the Student Nurses Association of Georgia (SNAG) sponsored a food drive during the week of Thanksgiving to aid needy persons in the Clayton County area. Working with the Department of Children and Family Services of Clayton County, SNAG collected enough food to allow two families of six and a retired senior citizen to have a Thanksgiving without hunger.

"Most of the food that was collected from CJC came from the members of SNAG," stated Jimmie Sue Walker, President of the Campus Chapter of the organization. Ms. Walker went on to state, "The food drive was a good opportunity to do something to feel good about ourselves."

IN BRIEF

On November 10 and 11, the second election of the fall quarter was held to fill six senate positions in the at-large section of the Student Government Association and three senate positions in the Business Division. One hundred and twenty-six votes were cast for the at-large candidates and four positions were filled. Jae Emery, Paul Parsons, Judy Bufford and Charlotte Bracey were the winners. In the first SGA election, the Business Division ballot had been declared void because of a mistake concerning a candidate's name. Pam Morrow, Tim Dickerson, and Brenda Forrester proved to be the winners in the second election for the Business Division.

The staff of The Bent Tree encourages any students interested in journalism who would like to write for the student newspaper to contact Jean Graham, Bent Tree advisor, in office G-210 L.

Staff meetings for Winter Quarter will be on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 1:15. However, students with schedule conflicts may still arrange to write articles for the paper.

Tickets to attend a "Christmas Madrigal Dinner" at CJC on Thursday, December 9 are available in the Office of the Dean of Students. No tickets will be sold after Monday, December 6.

Sponsored by the CJC Choir and Lyceum Committee, the $5 tickets cover the cost of the meal planned for the festive event. Music, a 15th Century Christmas play, and a magic act will be presented free of charge.

Russell Key Becomes Financial Aid Director

A new Director of Financial Aid and Placement has been named at CJC. Russell R. Key, Jr., a native of Wilmington, North Carolina, assumed the responsibilities of the position at the start of the Fall Quarter, according to Robert C. Bolander, Dean of Students.

The Director of Financial Aid and Placement, responsible directly to the Dean of Students, seeks out students in need of financial assistance, and aids them with the various processes involved with a financial aid application. In addition, he counsels students and their families as to the various types of financial aid available, and administers federal, state, local, and institutional regulations governing these programs.

Key was owner and operator of a distributing company in Wilmington prior to joining the CJC faculty. While serving with the U.S. Marine Corps from 1967-71, he served as a Missile Technician, Educator and Counselor. From 1971-73 he was a bookkeeper and salesman in Wilmington and in 1974-75 became a "budget analyst" with Ford Motor Company in Dearborn, Michigan.

Married and the father of two sons, Key received his bachelor's degree in economics from the University of North Carolina in 1972, and served as a Graduate Assistant in Marketing at Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1973-74 while obtaining his master's degree in finance.

The purpose of financial aid at CJC is to provide assistance to students who otherwise could not attend college. Complete information about all financial aid and loan programs available may be obtained by contacting Key (363-7556) in the Office of the Dean of Students.

Camelot Cast Recruits Dog

The spring presentation of "Camelot" has been cast at CJC, but a key role in the Lerner and Lowe production has not been filled, according to Dr. Larry Corse, director of the college choir.

The role of "Horrid," a very ugly, shaggy, but smart dog, remains to be cast for the March 10-13 production by the CJC Choir and Band. "We are looking for such a dog that the Choir can borrow for about two months," Dr. Corse explained.

"He will be trained by a well-qualified dog trainer using very gentle methods," he continued. "The best of care will be given this dog during the training period and during the show."

Corse and his wife Sandy, who live in Griffin, will train and care for "Horrid" during the period, and then return the dog to his owner. Anyone with such a pet who would "like a part in Camelot" should contact Dr. Corse at the college (363-7570) for further information, and perhaps an audition.

Rob Taylor, Director of Student Activities at CJC, and the Committee on General Entertainment are planning a musical concert for next quarter. Currently among two acts being considered is Gene Cotton. Cotton is a folk singer from Nashville who was well received at CJC last year. The Dixie Dregs another possibility, are from Augusta and have played at the Southeast Music Hall and the Bistro. The date of the concert is being tentatively set for either January 14 or 28.

Rob Taylor and the student sub-committee have also announced plans for five films to be shown at CJC during the upcoming winter quarter. "Freebie and the Bean," starring James Caan and Alan Arken, will be shown on January 7. "Hindenburg" starring George C. Scott will be shown on the 21 of January. "Gable and Lombard" starring James Brolin and Jill Clayburgh will be shown on February 4. "Lucky Lady" starring Burt Reynolds, Liza Minelli and Gene Hackman will be shown on February 18 and "Return of the Pink Panther" starring Peter Sellers will be presented on March 4th. All of the featured films will be free to CJC students and their guests.

Procrastinator's Peril

About this time every quarter, along with my fellow laborers, I get an illness that I call "the procrastinator's peril". The disease is not a new or uncommon one among students. I imagine that it strikes at least eight out of ten scholars. The symptoms are easily detected by onlookers, especially those who are teachers. The victims usually have blood shot eyes from cramming for exams the night before they are scheduled. Those who are stricken with the "peril" tend to smoke more cigarettes and drink more coffee than the human body is designed to handle. In extreme cases, hallucinations of dissected frogs (for Biology students) and misplaced punctuation (for English pupils) may occur.

What are the reasons for the "peril"? From my own experience, I see the whole illness as a part of being in college. No matter how much time I have to study, it seems that I can't find it until the end of the quarter. For some reason, I am compelled to sit back and take life and learning in stride for nine weeks of the quarter and then try to break the records of memory recall in a seven day period.

Oh well, maybe next quarter will be different! After I go to all the new discos, attend the lectures at school, talk to my friends on the phone, and watch my favorite T.V. programs, I'm sure I'll have time to water the furrows of my brain with the vast amount of knowledge that I am exposed to in my classes. For now, I'm going to get a cup of coffee and try to find a home remedy for red eyes and sleepless nights before my typewriter!

Division of Business Introduces New Faculty

The newly-created Division of Business at CJC includes 12 faculty members, five of whom are new additions to the faculty.

Included on the list of newcomers is Dr. John F. Loye, Jr., Associate Professor of Business and Chairman of the Division. Other members are Jack D. Hardage and Willie Mae Johnson in Business Education; and Gregory S. Kordecki and Kathleen A. Wessman in Accounting.

Dr. Loye, a native of Lawrence, Mass., holds a bachelor's degree in Military Engineering from the U.S. Military Academy, a bachelor's degree in Industrial Engineering from Syracuse University, a master's degree in Personnel and Industrial Relations from Syracuse, a master's degree in Public Administration from George Washington University, and a doctorate in Educational Administration from Florida State University. Immediately prior to joining the CJC faculty, he served as Director of Curricula and Instruction at Air University, Maxwell Air Force Base.

Hardage, an Assistant Professor of Business Education, served as a temporary instructor at CJC during the past year. A native of Powder Springs, Ga., he received his bachelor's degree in Secretarial Science from North Georgia College, his master's degree in Business Education from Georgia State University, and earned an educational specialist degree in Business Education from Georgia State. Prior to joining CJC, he served on the faculty at Wingate College in North Carolina, at Pebblebrook High School in Mableton, Ga., and at Georgia College, and a master's degree in Business Education from Tennessee State University. Prior teaching experiences include a year at Boddie High School in Milledgeville, two years in the Adult Education Program in Macon, and the past three years as an In-

State.

Ms. Johnson, a Temporary Instructor of Business Education, is a native of Macon, Ga. She earned a diploma in secretarial studies from National Business School, a bachelor's degree in Business Education from Virginia State University, and a master's degree in Business Administration from Albany State College.

Kordecki, a native of Milwaukee, Wis., joined the CJC faculty as an instructor of Business Administration. Formerly a Communications and Support Services Administrator for the American Can Company in Atlanta and Neenah, Wis., Kordecki received his bachelor's degree in English and History from Marquette University and his master's degree in accounting from Georgia State University.

Ms. Wessman, also an Instructor of Business Administration, received bachelor's degrees in Audiology and in Elementary Education from Clarion State College, a master's degree in Accounting from Georgia State University. A native of Natrona Heights, Pa., she served as executive director and chief audiologist at Central Virginia Speech and Hearing Center in Lynchburg, Va., and more recently as a resource teacher of elementary subjects and as the principal's administrative assistant for Elk Grove Schools in California.

Other members of the new Division of Business who were members of the faculty last year are Dr. Doris C. Cash, Associate Professor of Business; John F. Feathers, Assistant Professor of Business; Thomas H. Tidrick, Instructor of Business Administration; W. Michael Field, Assistant Professor of Business Administration; Frances F. Bowen, Assistant Professor of Business Education; Marian N. Terrell, Instructor of Business Education; and Martha F. Oates, Assistant Professor of Business Education.

Music Students Present Recital

Music students at Clayton Junior College performed in recital on Tuesday, November 23 at 8:30 p.m. in Room G-132.

The recital included solo performances by six CJC piano majors. Dana Wall performed a Chopin "Nocturne"; Susan Pryon performed the first movement of a Mozart "Sonata"; Kathy Claborn's selection was "Grillen" by Schumann; Mary Wright performed "Scenes from Childhood" by Schumann; Debbie Wiley presented one movement of an early Beethoven "Sonata"; and Keith Wilkerson's selection was Bach's "Tocata in E Minor".

A wide range of music was performed by four voice majors.

Ralph Allen sang two selections by John Duke and Richard Strass; Dana Patrick presented a piece from "The Medium" by Menotti; Hoye Pope's selection was "The Hero" by Menotti; and Keith Reynolds sang two negro spirituals.

Hal Crowe, a brass major, played a transcription of the slow movement from Haydn's "Cello Concerto" on the trombone.

All students majoring in music at CJC must perform in recital each quarter as a partial fulfillment of their music courses. The materials are selected by their instructors according to the needs and capabilities of each individual.

Caldwell Releases Record

Looking at him, it is not immediately noticeable that Clinton Caldwell, CJC printer, was performing on radio at the age of thirteen, and that he has returned to a country music career with the recent release of "Santa's Copter" and "Peace and Joy".

Officially released on November 15, Caldwell's new record is expected to sell very well, with several area department stores having had orders in prior to its recording. According to Caldwell, "Santa's Copter" will be played by many radio stations, not just those playing country music. This will enable the recording to reach a wide variety of people.

Clinton Caldwell's career began with a radio performance when he was thirteen years old. In 1957, he became a regular on the Louisiana Hayride radio program. At this time, he also wrote for the late country star Johnny Horton.

In 1960, as a writer for Cedarwood Publishing Company, Caldwell moved to Nashville, where he began recording for ABC-Paramount. Due to an automobile accident in 1964, he was forced to delay his music career.

He began writing again in 1974 and had several songs recorded by other performers. CJC hired him in June, 1975 as campus printer. In July, 1976, he was instrumental in bringing the OMNI RECORDS ROAD SHOW to campus, where he met music promoter Thomas Jackson, who is now Caldwell's manager.

With the OMNI release of "Santa's Copter" and "Peace and Joy", Clinton Caldwell is back into a musical career. Thanksgiving marked the beginning of a long list of appearances for him in major shopping centers in the Atlanta area.

Fish For A Change

Just as the Falcons were hungry for a victory Sunday, I also felt the need for a change. I knew a hamburger just wasn't going to hit the spot. All of a sudden a vision came to light . . . fish and chips. That naturally was the easiest of my decisions because next would come the task of choosing which of the five fishy establishments in the Clayton area to patronize. As my mind and appetite wandered from place to place, I found that all the five restaurants' menus seem to be evenly balanced as far as competitive content. The main entree for all is fish and chips, with a more complete dinner for around $2.00.

Cedric's, on Old National Highway, has Fish and Chips for $1.69 and a dinner consisting of two pieces of fish, chips, slaw, and hushpuppies for $1.99.

On down the road on Tara Boulevard is Arthur Treacher's Fish and Chips. A dinner with two pieces of fish, chips, and slaw comes to $1.89. An order of Fish and Chips is $1.59.

Going on to Jonesboro on Tara Boulevard is Long John Silver's Seafood Shoppes. Their Fish and Fries is $1.59. A Treasure Chest of two pieces of fish, fries, and slaw costs $1.95.

Upon leaving Jonesboro, I traveled back to Forest Park, stopping on Jonesboro Road. Coming first to Captain Dee's, I found Fish and Chips with hushpuppies for $1.49. A fish, fries, slaw and hushuppy dinner is $2.09.

The last place I went to H. Salt Esquire, has Fish and Chips for $1.65. For $1.89, you can get a dinner of fish, chips, slaw and a roll.

Coming back to CJC campus, one of the best deals in Clayton County is offered on Friday. A fish fillet sandwich, fries and small drink costs only $.97. But personally, I cherish the Chef's clam chowder. On Friday, this delicacy is prepared as the 'soup of the day' with a bowl costing only $.50. At the end of a hard week, I count on having two bowls of chowder to fill my stomach and lift my spirits!

So, if you want a change from meat and potatoes, wet your feet a little and 'fin' your way into some fish and chips!

Fall Season Ends Huns Lead in Points

With much excitement, the fall program of intramural sports has come to a close at CJC. The Huns, with fifty-two points, are leading by nine points over the Tribunes for team competition. Leading in men's competition are Mark Gomez and Gary Jester. Ahead by fifteen points in women's competition, Loraine Hall holds first place over Wanda Smith. Although five events are finished, intramural competition resumes next quarter for league and individual trophies.

In flag football, the Vandals were unbeaten during their regular season. Although the Knights received one loss from the Vandals, the Knights crushed the Vandals with a 21-6 victory in the championship game on November 10. Members of the winning team included Terry Reagin, Steve Pierce, David Robertson, Peter Roy, Pat McCormick, C. Marlowe, Richard O'Connor, and Billy McLeod.

In the women's division of badminton singles, Julie Hinton won two of three matches against Ellen Wujcik and captured first place. Linda Mergens and Sherrie Oliver finished in a tie for third place. In the men's division, Glen Darden defeated Ronald Hazebrig in singles badminton.

Winning the overall competition in tennis doubles, the Huns finished in the first and second-place slots. The men's finals was clinched by Gary Jester and Mike Koch with a win over Mark Gomez and Randy Folks.

On October 31, the intramural Volleyball Tournament was held resulting in a Vandal victory over the Knights. The Vandal's team consisted of Wanda Smith, Maria Saul, Lynn Wood, Cheryle White, Byron Smith, Jimmy Watson, Karl Wohlbers, and Anthony Sheppard.

Running 1.9 miles in the CJC Cross Country Race, Mark Gomez again captured first place in the men's division with a time of 8:25. Almost two minutes later, Tamara Ashworth arrived with first in the women's division. As a team, the Huns placed four runners within the first thirteen competitors and earned first place. The three first place finishers were given the traditional prize—a frosted cake.
