Barfield Is Named First C.S.C. Athletic Director

Will Also Be Mens' Head Basketball Coach

H. Mason Barfield, assistant men's basketball coach at Kennesaw College, has been named Director of Athletics and head basketball coach at Clayton State College, according to Dr. Harry S. Downs, President.

"We are extremely pleased to have Mason Barfield head up our new program of athletics," Dr. Downs said. "He has demonstrated outstanding leadership qualities in coaching and teaching, and his experiences undoubtedly will make him successful in working with our students, faculty and the community while establishing a quality athletic program."

Clayton State will enter into intercollegiate athletic competition on the NAIA level during the 1990-91 basketball season. Starting with a men's program only, the College anticipates the addition of other sports after studies are completed to determine their impact on the College and the community.

As Director of Athletics, Barfield will be charged with identifying the next athletic programs to be added, to fill coaching posi-

First Wellness Fair Set For October 19

by Scott Hall

On Thursday, October 19, 1989, from 9:00 a.m.—noon, in and around the C-lobby, there will be a Wellness Fair. Twenty organizations will be present and representatives from them will be answering questions and providing information. Among these will be AID Atlanta, Alcoholics Anonymous, Narcotics Anonymous, MADD, Clayton General Hospital, American Heart Association, Battered Women's Association, and the Clayton State College Dental Hygiene and Nursing Departments.

Screenings will be offered to all who want them. Among the screenings that will be offered free of charge are blood pressure, glaucoma, cataracts, vision acuity, and hearing. Clayton General Hospital will be providing a cholesterol screening for $5. If you want to have the cholesterol screening done, fasting for eight hours prior to the screening is recommended.

In addition to the screenings, there will also be several different seminars in the B-building from 11:05 a.m.—12:05 p.m. In room B-15, "The Devastating Effects of Alcohol" will be presented. A panel comprised of a student whose life was changed permanently by an alcohol-related accident, a felon convicted of vehicular homicide, and a parent whose child had planned to attend Clayton State College but was killed by a drunk driver, will be featured. "AIDS, It Can Happen" will feature a speaker who has AIDS. The main emphasis will be on student education about the disease and how it can happen to anybody. The importance of being assertive about protecting your body and life will be stressed. This seminar will be held in room B-10.

tions, and to develop a plan to provide adequate facilities for the new programs

As men's basketball coach, he will complete a schedule for the 1990-91 season, recruit players for the team, and plan alterations of the existing gymnasium to accommodate basketball.

"He has the unique opportunity of establishing a new intercollegiate athletic program within an environment which emphasizes academic performance," Dr. Downs said. "He will be working with our students, faculty and residents of the community to determine the best athletic program for this college."

Additional sports programs proposed during a survey of the student body last year include basketball, cross country, softball and tennis for women, and cross country, baseball, soccer and golf for men.

Clayton President Downs Hosted Press Conference To Name New A.D.

by: Paul D. Mixon

On October 10, President Harry S. Downs called for a press conference in order to introduce the man who would fill the position of Athletic Director and Men's Basketball Coach here at Clayton State College. Held in the Gym at 11:00 AM, President Downs presented H. Mason Barfield to the press and others in attendance.

President Downs, while introducing Mr. Barfield, seemed to be excited about what was taking place. That also seemed to be the feeling of other CSC officials. "This is our first venture into the arena of intercollegiate athletics," stated Dr. Down. He continued by welcoming Mr. Barfield, his wife Elizabeth, and their three children to Clayton State College and the surrounding community.

The former assistant men's basketball coach at Kennesaw College, Mr. Barfield seemed to be well experienced in dealing with the demands of building an athletics program. Mr. Barfield is quite hopeful of

Habitat For Humanity Needs C.S.C. Student Workers To Help

Clayton County Habitat for Humanity is looking for a few hearty Clayton State College Students to participate as volunteers in its work on Hope Community. Hope Community is Clayton Habitat's third housing project. Two Habitat homes are located on Albert Drive in Forest Park.

Hope Community is planned as a eight-house subdivision in Forest Park. It is being built in two phases. The first two homes face Springdale Road and six homes will be on a cul-de-sac at the end of Granade Drive. Construction is currently underway.

"We're a small organization with just a core group of committed volunteers. We always like to see new faces and can certainly find everyone a way to help out," Tom Baker, President of Clayton Habitat, said. "I don't think we'll ever have too many volunteers. That would be a problem I'd like to deal with."

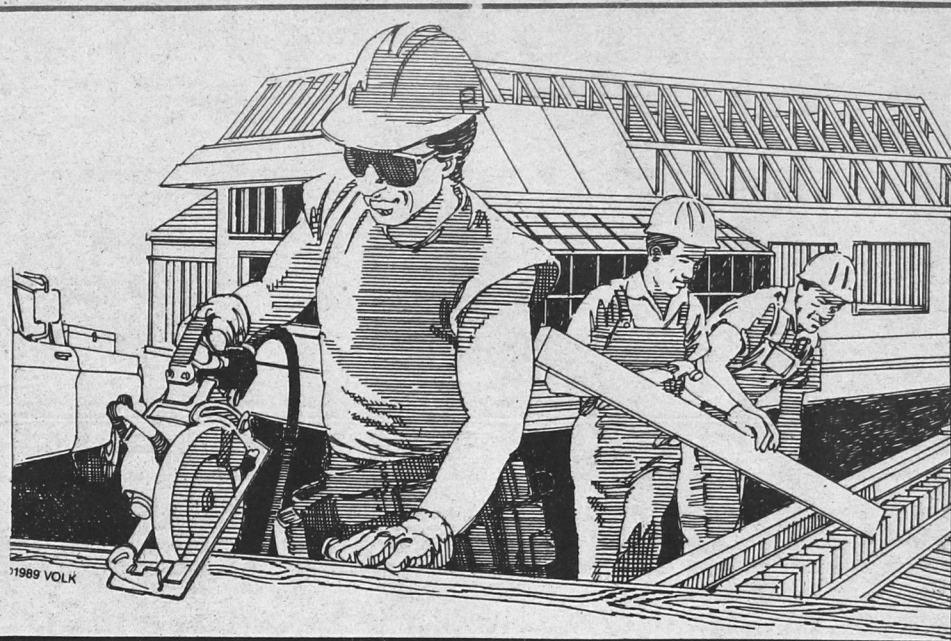

Clayton Habitat builds its homes from the ground up and depends on volunteers for labor, building supplies, and financial support. Volunteers of all skill levels are invited to participate in Habitat's activities. Professionals are always needed, but those with no construction skills are just as welcome.

Clayton Habitat also needs volunteers to serve on its numerous committees. These committees include administration, building, church development, family selection, finance, nominations and personnel, nurturing, publicity, resources, site selection, and volunteers. Clayton Habitat meets at 7:30 p.m., the third Thursday of each month at Jonesboro United Methodist Church. "Most of our committees have only one or two people working on them. There's a lot of behind the scenes work to be done, and these are the people we count on for that," Baker said.

Clayton County Habitat for Humanity is a non-profit Christian housing ministry dedicated to working with people to improve their living conditions. Habitat accomplishes this by building or renovating houses and selling them at no profit and no interest.

If you are interested in learning more about this opportunity for community service, you are invited to Clayton Habitat's Pancake Breakfast on Saturday, October 21. The breakfast will take place from 7:00 a.m.—11:00 a.m. at the Morrow First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall. Tickets are $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for children. Mr. Bob Bertram, who was an international volunteer for Habitat in Costa Rica, will be the guest speaker. Proceeds from this breakfast will go to the Hope Community. For more information, write or call Clayton County Habitat for Humanity, 142 South Main Street, Jonesboro, Georgia, 30236. Their phone number is 477-2367.

Two Nursing Scholarships To Be Awarded This Fall

Two scholarships for nursing students have recently been announced by the Dean of Students office. The Georgia Association of Post Anesthesia Nurses, South Metro District, is offering a $500 scholarship and the Association of Operating Room Nurses, Tara Chapter, is offering a $100 scholarship.

The $500 scholarship is open to all second, third and fourth year Clayton State College nursing students. The requirements are that the applicant be in good academic standing and complete a two-part scholarship application.

The $100 scholarship is open to freshman and sophomore Clayton State College nursing students. Applicants must be in good academic standing, complete a three-part application including a one-page paper on the subject of "What in Your Life Influenced You To Become a Professional Nurse." Applicants must agree that their name and photo can be released for publicity purposes.

Applications for both of the scholarships are available from the Dean of the School of Health Sciences (C-37) or the Dean of Students (C-57). Applications must be submitted to the Dean of Students by no later than October 31.

Harry S. Truman Scholarship Is Available To C.S.C. Students

Clayton State College sophomores interested in a career in government service at the federal, state, or local level are invited to apply for the 1990 Harry S. Truman Scholarship.

Established by Congress in 1975, the Harry S. Truman Scholarship Foundation operates ongoing educational scholarship programs designed to provide opportunities for outstanding students in the United States with potential leadership ability to prepare for careers in government service.

In April 1990, the foundation will award 92 scholarships nationally. The deadline for all 1990 applications is December 1, 1989. Clayton State College is eligible to nominate three students for the 1990 competition.

The scholarship award covers eligible expenses up to $7,000 per year for the junior and senior years and up to two years of graduate study.

To be eligible, a student must be a full-time sophomore working toward or planning to pursue a baccalaureate degree, have a "B" average or equivalent, stand in the upper fourth of the class, and be a United States citizen or United States national heading toward a career in government.

Interested students should submit a letter of application, a statement of career plans, a list of past public service activities or other leadership positions, a current transcript, and a 600-word essay discussing a public policy issue of their choice. These items need to be submitted to Robert C. Bolander, Dean of Students, Truman Scholarship Faculty Representative, by November 21, 1989. Dean Bolander's office is located in room C-57.

Ghostbusters II Paired With Pasta on November 3

Halloween will be an extended celebration this year. On Friday, November 3, General Entertainment will present four screenings of Ghostbusters II. This will be a special evening as it will also feature a Family Night Spaghetti Dinner at 6:30 p.m.

The dinner featuring all-you-can-eat spaghetti with meat sauce, garlic bread, and coffee, iced tea or fruit punch will be served in the dining hall prior to the 7:30 p.m. screening of Ghostbusters II. This screening will take place in the dining hall, while the 1:15, 8:30, and 10:30 shows will take place in G-132. This feature is rated "PG" and will be a kiddie/adult combination film.

Tickets for the dinner portion of the program will be on sale beginning on Monday, October 23. They will be available in the Dean of Students Office (C-57) from 8:00 a.m.—6:00 p.m. on Mondays and Tuesdays and from 8:00 a.m.—5:00 p.m. on Wednesdays through Fridays. Prices will be $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12. Tickets bought at the door on the evening of the dinner will be $3.00 for adults and $2.00 for children under 12. Salads, desserts and popcorn will be available for purchase for those who desire them.

In addition to the dinner and movie, a drawing will be held, before the film screening, for movie posters, etc.

Ghostbusters II stars Bill Murray, Harold Ramis, Dan Aykroyd, Annie Potts, Rick Moranis, Sigourney Weaver, and Ernie Hudson. All of these actors will be reprising their roles from the original film. Ghostbusters is the all-time comedy box-office champion.

Come out and see Ghostbusters II and keep that Halloween feeling just a little bit longer than usual.

The "Caped Crusader" Hits The Campus on Friday, October 27

by Joe Digby

If you have not yet had the chance to see the movie Batman, you will October 27. The biggest hit of the summer will be shown in room G-132 at 1:15, 6:30, 8:45, and 11:00 p.m.

The movie, starring Jack Nicholson and Michael Keaton, has already made hundreds of millions at the box office and is still showing at a lot of theaters. It is expected to draw large crowds on campus. The movie follows the long running comic rather than the television series you may be familiar with.

Michael Keaton stars as the "Caped Crusader" and Kim Basinger is Vicki Vale in BATMAN, to be shown at C.S.C. on Friday, October 27.

This version of Batman centers mainly on the conflict between Bruce Wayne (Batman) and Jack Napier (The Joker). This action-packed story is about The Joker's insane attempt to take over Gotham City and Batman's efforts to stop him. Telling any more of the plot would take away from the excitement of the film. Batman was one of the most entertaining movies I saw over the summer and I would recommend seeing it to anyone who enjoys action films with a lot of humor. Batman is definitely a movie to see.

Michael Keaton, who plays Batman, is very entertaining. It took some time for me to get used to viewing him as a super hero. Once in costume, he looks the part and is perfect as the witty and funny character of Bruce Wayne. With all the special effects and the all new Batmobile, this Batman is definitely different from the one on television. One thing that is missing from the movie is the character Robin. Robin may be added to the sequel.

Jack Nicholson, cast as The Joker, seems to play him with all the energy he could manage. While watching the movie I got the feeling that Nicholson really is really fun to watch as the insane yet funny Joker. If you're a fan of his you'll enjoy him in Batman. I found myself laughing out loud and I think The Joker is what made the movie so much fun to watch.

The movie does contain violence so it may not be your type of film and parental

Scott Doner Appointed As C.S.C. Public Safety Director

H. Scott Doner, a ten-year veteran with Emory University's Department of Public Safety, has assumed duties as Director of Public Safety at Clayton State College, according to Robert H. Koermer, Vice President for Fiscal Affairs.

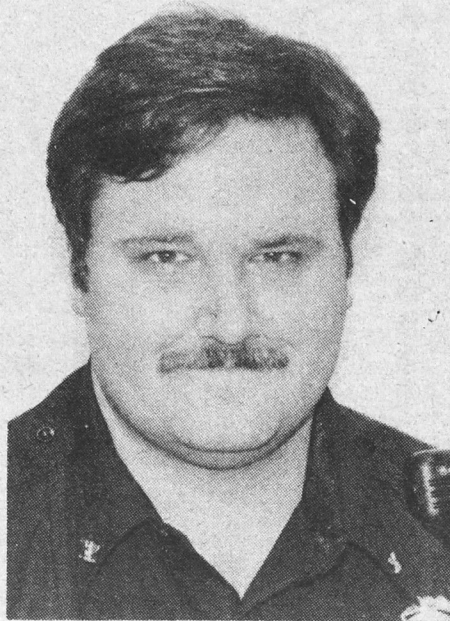

Doner earned a bachelor's degree in Criminal Justice from Troy State University in 1979, and a master's degree in the same field from Georgia State University in 1988. In addition, he has completed over 55 training courses, ranging from firearms and explosives to CPR, child abuse, terrorism, traffic and criminal laws, self defense, riot control, and police administration.

Since 1984, he has served as an associate instructor at the Region 4 Police Academy's Public Safety Training Institute, providing instruction in medical emergencies, firearms and other basic courses.

Doner joined Emory University as a Public Safety Officer in 1980. He became supervisor of traffic and parking in 1982, and in 1984, was promoted to Sergeant in charge of the morning watch.

He was named Supervisor of Support Services in 1986, and a year later was named Public Safety Supervisor and promoted to the rank of Lieutenant.

As Director of Public Safety at Clayton State, Doner is responsible for the supervision and administrative work involved in planning, organizing and directing the seven-officer department.

It is the responsibility of the department to enforce all traffic rules and regulations of the College, and to cooperate with appropriate law enforcement agencies in the on-campus enforcement of local, state and federal laws.

Mark Twain Takes The Stage In The College Dining Hall

Tickets Available Now

Mark Twain is alive and well and coming to Clayton State College this Friday.

The General Entertainment Committee offers you the opportunity to put yourself back into the late 1890's and spend an evening with Mr. Mark Twain. The special performance of "Mark Twain on Tour," starring Kenneth Richters, will take place on October 20 at 8:00 p.m. It will be preceded by a dinner in the dining hall.

Tickets for the 7:00 p.m. dinner are priced at $7.00 in advance and $8.00 at the door (if any are available). Seating will be limited to 150. Those wishing to attend just the performance are welcome to do so.

The dinner will feature roast beef, squash souffle, Italian green beans, salad, rolls, and strawberry shortcake. Those purchasing their tickets early will be assured of the best seating.

Mr. Richters has performed "Mark Twain on Tour" over 700 times since 1978. The extraordinary aging process, which takes close to three hours of make-up application, transform Richters from a man in his early thirties to one in his seventies. Mr. Richters has appeared as Mark Twain for AT&T, on the Public Broadcasting System, the BBC in England, before members of Congress in Washington, D.C., and most recently as a spokesman for United Technologies and the World Trade Center Association.

In other roles, Ken Richters has performed in live stage productions such as Oklahoma, Brigadoon, and Godspell. On television he has had roles on Happy Days, Search for Tomorrow and in the NBC-TV movie Johnny We Hardly Knew Ye, a film about the early political life of President John F. Kennedy.

In a review of a past performance the Los Angeles Times reviewer wrote, "Mark Twain is without question alive and well, and traveling the world with actor Ken Richters." After his performance at Oxford University, a reviewer wrote, "The American actor Richters was Mark Twain! The opening night audience was enthusiastic and very impressed..."

S.G.A. President Speaks Out On Representatives Election

by Rachel Matthews SGA President

On October 24 and 25, the Student Government Association will hold elections for SGA representatives. A representative will be elected from each of the following schools: School of Arts & Sciences, School of Health Sciences, School of Technology, and School of Business, along with two night student positions and two representative-at-large positions. This ensures that all of the various groups of students have equal representation. Representatives have voting power on all issues and the privilege of debate at all meetings. The requirements are: (1) Be enrolled in at least (5) credit hours per quarter during the academic year (fall, winter, and spring) and (2) Have and maintain a minimum 2.5 grade point average.

To run, you must fill out a petition which is available in the Dean of Students Office (C-57). Petitions need to be turned in as soon as possible but no later than 3:00 p.m. on October 20. The proper procedure for campaigning is explained on the petition. Campaigning starts as soon as your petition has been verified by the Dean of Students Office and ends when the polls close on October 25.

There are also many committee positions open for all students. These positions are not elected but appointed by the SGA. They include committees such as Student Affairs Committee, Executive Committee, Lyceum Committee, Library Committee, Judicial Commission, and Publication Committee. If you are interested in participating, there will be a sign up sheet at the ballot box. The person working the ballot box will be able to answer any questions you may have. We need good people as representatives and committee members to help provide student input on these committees, all of which affect students directly. This College would not exist if students were not here. Don't be someone who sits around and complains. Get involved—if you want to make changes—This is the place to start!

Lecture Series Focuses on Contemporary Art

by Melody S. Murvin

Beginning October 25, the Lyceum Committee will present a series of programs focusing on perspectives in contemporary art.

The first speaker will be Mr. Joseph Perrin from Georgia State University. He is Professor and Head Emeritus of the School of Art and Design. Lecture times are 7:00 p.m. on October 25 and 11:05 a.m. on October 26. The lectures will take place in room D-223. Mr. Perrin will also be visiting the studio art and humanities classes to provide students with the opportunity for a more personalized discussion. Videotapes of all speakers will be made.

There will be other lecturers featured throughout the year to encompass the many forms of contemporary art in the Southeast and in Georgia, particularly. These include Dr. John Howett, Professor of Art History at Emory University. He will speak at 7:00 p.m. on November 8. Mr. Lamar Dodd from the University of Georgia and several private gallery owners, art critics and historians will also be a part of this series.

This program was proposed and implemented by Dr. June M. Legge, Assistant Professor of Foreign Language and Mr. Thomas B. Daughtry, Associate Professor of Art. It was specifically developed to bring together the people who helped to shape art, as it is now, in the State of Georgia and those students who would like to open up their understanding of art and to develop their aesthetic perspective.

According to Mr. Daughtry, "This will add a whole new dimension to the overall educational experience here at the College."

This program is a first of its kind, in that well known artists and critics will be speaking to the general student body for the first time at Clayton State. Dr. Legge and Mr. Daughtry are very excited and have worked hard to put this program together. Dr. Legge says, "We have the educational circle of speakers well represented." The two series proposers are hoping the students will participate and take advantage of the presenters knowledge and experience to help expose them to the art of the past and present, thereby understanding art as it relates to our culture.

For more information on the speakers in this series, please refer to the Lyceum Program Guide.

Halloween Bash Slated For October 31

Tuesday, October 31 is the date of this year's campus Halloween celebrations. Several activities will be going on that day.

Student Government will be sponsoring a Halloween Reception in the Counseling Center (Room D-208) from 9:30 a.m.—11:30 a.m. and from 5:00 p.m.—6:00 p.m. Cookies, candy, and punch will be available. You can also tour the Counseling Center and check out the wide variety of services and facilities available.

The General Entertainment Committee will sponsor the traditional costume contest at 9:40 a.m. in the lobby of the C-building. Winners will receive Southlake Mall gift certificates and other prizes. Let your imagination take charge and get in the spirit of Halloween by participating in this annual event. All students and faculty are invited to participate in the costume contest.

Traditionally the Dental Hygiene students dress up in costumes for Halloween. This is particularly fun for their many young patients. Don't be surprised if you see Little Red Riding Hood or some other fictional character in the lower level of the D-Building that day.

Thamyris To Perform Music Of The Twentieth Century Next Monday Night In G-132

On Monday, October 30, Lyceum will present a special recital as a part of the "Art and Technology" series. Thamyris, an Atlanta-based ensemble which performs only music of the twentieth century, will be in concert at 7:00 p.m. in room G-132.

This concert will feature the world premier of Imponderables for Piano and Percussion, a new piece, written this year, by Mark Gresham. A total of five pieces by twentieth century composers will be performed at this concert. Other composers on the program will be Steve Reich, Miriam Gideon, Susan Parenti, and George Crumb.

Pianist Laura Gordy teaches at the Georgia Academy of Music and has served on the faculty of the College of the Mainland and Mississippi State University. Peggy Benkeser, percussionist, is a member of the Macon and Columbus Symphony Orchestras and has lectured on the music of the twentieth century at numerous colleges and universities.

Paul Brittan, the group's flutist, is on the faculty of Georgia State University and is a member of the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra. Cheryl Boyd-Waddell, soprano, has appeared with the Rochester Bach Festival and the Goldovsky Opera Institute. She has been a finalist in the Chicago Lyric Opera Auditions of the Air.

Derrick Henry, classical music critic of the Atlanta Journal-Constitution, wrote, "Nothing but praise is due the stunningly accomplished and compelling performances by Thamyris."

Earl Is A Real "Renaissance" Man

by Paul D. Mixon

To most people, Joey Earl is about as normal as the rest of us. He graduated from Morrow Senior High. He goes to Clayton State College, where he majors in business. He likes to keep in shape by cycling and occasionally working out with weights. However, Mr. Earl has a hobby that most of us would find unique.

He makes armour. Thirteenth century European armour to be exact. "Well, I guess I've been interested in it since I was in Junior High," said Mr. Earl. "At that point I made some armour out of airplane aluminum, but it was just for looks." However, a close look at some of the things which Joey has created will reveal much more than armour made just for looks. "I started making real armour my junior year in high school. I got the idea from that year's Renaissance festival, which featured members of a group called 'Society for Creative Anachronism.' They were holding demonstrations on armour making, and so I bought a couple of their manuals and that's where the stuff I make now comes from," he explained.

Joey has made a brigandine from 1/8 inch steel which he cut into plates about three inches long and two inches wide. He then glues the plates in between two pieces of leather which are cut to the specifications of his chest and abdomen. He then does the same for his back, and then connects the two at his shoulder.

Other pieces of armour created by Mr. Earl include plate mail leg pieces, chain mail sleeves on his brigandine, elbow covers made out of steel, and a thirteenth century helmet.

Earl has forged two swords at a forge he built in the back yard of his home in Rex. The forge is made out of an old grill filled with heating bricks, and has an old manual blower attached to one side.

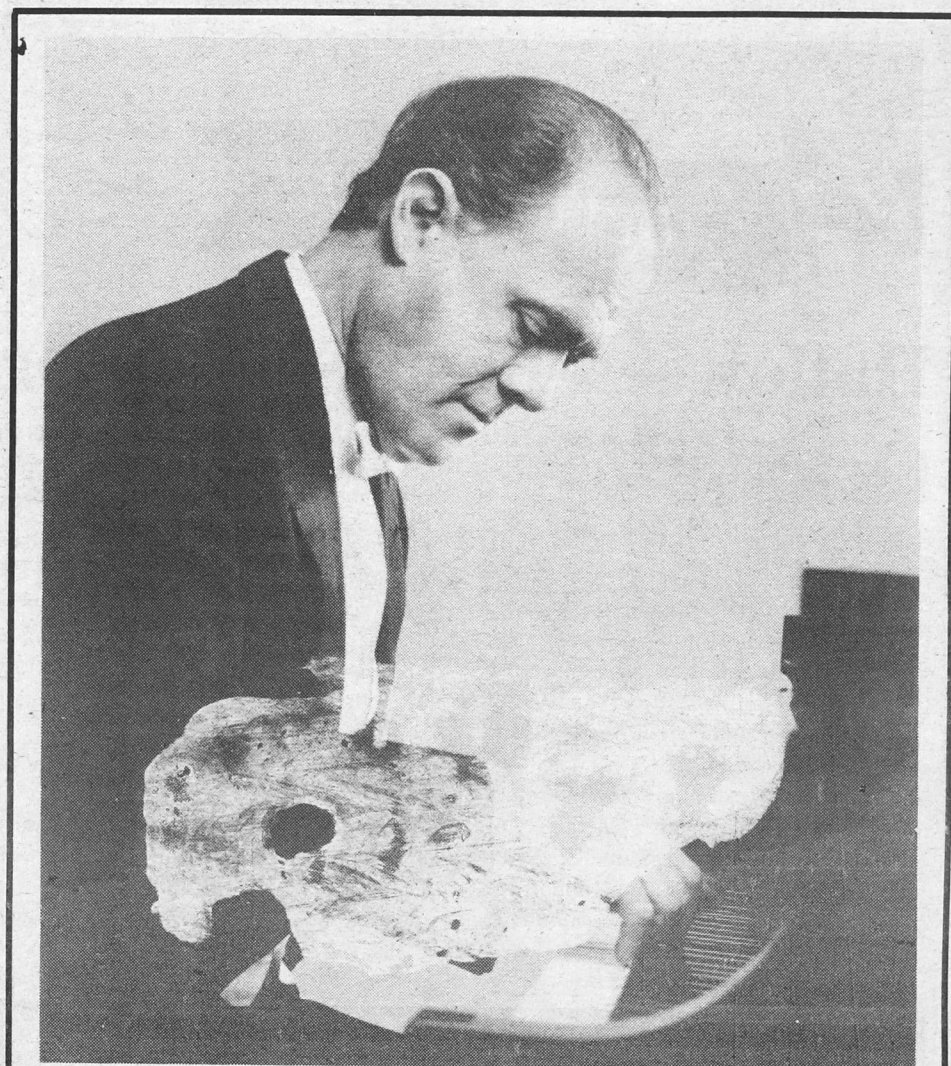

Making armour, however, is just the beginning. Mr. Earl takes his hobby a step further. He fights with what he creates. "Every Sunday afternoon at Atlanta Memorial Park the Society (For Creative Anachronism) holds fighter practice. I occasionally go up there, when I can find the time," he said. At fighter practice, Mr. Earl spars with other members of the society using swords made out of a bamboo-like wood called rattan. He also uses a shield. "Most of the other guys are really good. Sometimes they fight with wooden axes, and polearms. Nobody ever gets hurt real badly, but I've had a lot of bruises," he went on to say.

Obviously Mr. Earl takes his medieval history pretty seriously. This includes designing his room like the inside of a medieval castle. "My parents are pretty used to this stuff by now," claimed Earl. "They've always been supportive of what I'm doing."

Mr. Earl is currently making a fantasy action film with fellow students from Clayton State, the University of Georgia, Georgia Tech, and Georgia State. Mr. Earl provides most of the costumes for the film, as well as playing one of the leading roles.

Anonymous along with student participants, whose first names only will be used for the sake of anonymity, will present "Drugs—To Hell and Back" in room B-11. The message that will be highlighted is that help is out there for anyone who wants it. The Counseling Center in room D-208 can refer those who need help getting off drugs to the appropriate counseling organizations. The "How to Quit Smoking" seminar will be presented by a representative from Clayton General Hospital in room B-12. Options on how to quit smoking will be discussed. A spokesperson from Decatur Hospital will speak on "Eating Disorders" in room B-13. The effects of anorexia nervosa, bulimia, and over eating on the body will be the topic.

The cafeteria will be featuring a wellness menu for those who want to try a healthy meal. In the cafeteria and C-lobby, there will be forms for the students to evaluate the Wellness Fair and seminars. It is important that the students take a minute to fill these out. From these evaluations, we can find out what you like and what you may want in the future at the Wellness Fair. Any student interested in helping out can see Ms. Michelle Settle in room D-208. Funding for this activity is being provided by the Lyceum Committee.

building a well rounded program of sports here at Clayton State. "We want to provide as many athletic activities as we can," stated Mr. Barfield. However, he is also pleased with the fact that CSC will only start out with a men's basketball team for the 1990-91 season. Other sports will be added during future seasons. "I think we're starting out in a rational way," claimed Barfield.

Mr. Barfield also seemed rather hopeful about the possible success of the new athletic program. "We can have a successful program in a very short period of time," Barfield said.

The main theme, however, of Mr. Barfield's address, was the importance of a strong relationship between academics and athletics. Barfield spoke of the two as a "marriage" in which a strong academic program created a strong athletic program. This theory seems to be one of the main reasons Mr. Barfield was chosen as athletic director. When asked about why Mr. Barfield was picked for the position, Dr. Avery Harvill, chairman of the search committee for an athletic director, stated "I think it was his philosophy about what an athletics program should be, and how it should intertwine with academics."

Recruiting basketball players for the 90-91 season being his first task, Mr. Barfield made it clear he has a positive attitude on how he plans to recruit. He claimed, "This area can provide the athletes we need to build our program." Here Mr. Barfield made it clear than he planned to heavily recruit from the high school region 4-AAAA. These include Clayton County high schools, as well as Griffin High School, which typically has some of the best basketball players in the state. When recruiting top players, however, Mr. Barfield might find tough competition in NCAA Division 1 teams. "If a player is a Division 1 quality player, then they're going to a Division 1 school. But, I think we'll be able to draw quality players for the NAIA," analyzed Mr. Barfield.

In a conversation after the press conference, President Downs expressed hope for student involvement with the program. "We'll have cheerleaders, and a pep band...we'll shoot the works," claimed President Downs. "But we really need to build some spirit, get the students involved, and hopefully this thing will really take off."

Attending the press conference were local media, including the Clayton News Daily, and WGNX (channel 46). Also in attendance were SGA officials.

College in Montgomery, began his coaching career in 1980 as an assistant varsity coach and head junior varsity coach at Lowndes High.

He moved to Lassiter High School in 1985 and compiled a 47-30 record during a three-year stint as head boy's basketball coach at the Cobb County school. In 1987-88, his last season there, Barfield's team posted a 23-7 record en route to the State AAAA semifinals where they lost to eventual state champion Griffin. He was named "coach of the year" in Cobb County following the season.

He served as the assistant men's basketball coach at Kennesaw State last year, helping guide the team to an 18-13 record and into the District 25 NAIA playoffs.

Barfield, 33 graduated from Lowndes High in 1973 and played basketball for Alabama Christian Junior College for two years before transferring to Valdosta State College. He holds both a Bachelor of Science and Masters Degree in health and physical education from Valdosta State.

Married for 13 years, he and his wife, Elizabeth, have three children: Josh, 11; Ryan, 8; and Jess, 3.

Football Kicks Off Fall Intramurals

by John Bradford and Paul D. Mixon

Football season kicked off at Clayton State last week on October 12, as the intramural flag football season began. The four teams participating include America's Team, led by team captain Shane McMonigle, The Gladiators (also known as the Happy Romans) led by captain Mark Hayes, The Razorbacks, following captain Richie Bolton, and the Mallards, captained by Sean Mattingly.

Last Thursday, the Gladiators played against America's Team on Field #1 (behind the tennis courts). At the same time, the Razorbacks scrimmaged against the Mallards on Field #2 (located near the big Oak tree).

This week's games will be played on October 19, at 11:05. This week's games feature the Razorbacks against America's Team on Field #1, and the Mallards against the Gladiators on Field #2.

Evening Sport Is Available

by Paul D. Mixon

For students who enjoy playing badminton, an organized group plays every Tuesday from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m. in the gym. This recreational activity is open to all students, faculty and staff at no cost.

Up to four courts are used at one time, allowing up to eight double teams to play at a time (24 total players). Play began for Fall quarter on October 3. Interested players need to bring nothing but proper attire, as all of the necessary equipment will be provided.

The badminton "free play" concept was first introduced last quarter. The idea was conceived by Dr. Avery Harvill, head of the Physical Education Department. It has been a success thus far. "Free play" averages around 12 players per session which means that there is plenty of room for those interested in competing.

The action at last Thursday's opening day of the Intramural football competition was fast and furious as you can see by the effort being made by the defender and the runner in this photo. Nearly 50 students (and Dr. Hugh Arnold) are involved in this year's football league.
