CLAYTON STATE COLLEGE

MORROW, GEORGIA VOLUME XXIV ISSUE 1

Welcome From President Downs

Welcome to Clayton State College for the 1992-1993 academic year. Whether you are new to our College this fall or returning for another quarter, I am delighted that you will be part of our campus community.

The past few years have been full of "firsts" for Clayton State -- the initial baccalaureate degrees were awarded, Spivey Hall opened and the Albert Schweitzer organ was dedicated, the Bachelor of Music degree began classes, the new Continuing Education Building opened, and the "Lakers" started men's and women's intercollegiate basketball. This year, too, will have some firsts. You will notice new entrances, new parking lots, and new tennis courts on the west side of the campus. You will have a chance to cheer for new teams as the College adds to its intercollegiate sports program by beginning soccer and golf. Looking further ahead, the College is working in partnership with the six school systems in our service area to plan a bachelors degree in teacher education. Although not yet fully approved, the program is proposed for implementation of junior-level courses in Fall 1993.

As exciting as these annual "firsts" are, they are not what Clayton State College is all about. Our ongoing mission is teaching. The faculty is dedicated to helping students learn so that they can exhibit the learning outcomes that are taught in our general education and major programs.

The Clayton State College faculty is dedicated to constant improvement of the teaching-learning process. The heartbeat of the College is the learning that goes on in the classroom, in the laboratory, in the Library, in the Learning Support Center, in Spivey Hall, at Lyceum programs, and, of course in your own homes.

The entire faculty and staff of Clayton State College is here to serve you and to help you learn to the best of your ability. I urge you to make the most of your educational opportunities at Clayton State College.

Cordially,

Harry S. Downs
President

Welcome From Dean Bolander

Greetings:

Welcome to Clayton State College.

We hope you new students will find our many resources helpful in the pursuit of your goals and dreams; we trust you returning students have already discovered that the Dean of Students Office provides a number of student support services--student activities, study skills, financial aid, counseling, veterans services, career development...even lost and found.

Most important, when you have any questions that needs to be answered, we can get you to the right person to ask the right question. In fact, with our open-door policy, we're readily available to help you figure out what you want to know.

We believe this is a beautiful environment in which individuals can develop their capacities to the fullest--and we want to help. Please feel good about asking us for that assistance.

Sincerely,

Robert C. Bolander
Dean of Students

President Downs Announces Impending Retirement

Dr. Harry S. Downs, who has served as President of Clayton State College since it was founded as a junior college in 1969, has announced his plans for retirement.

The announcement was made today at the monthly meeting of the Board of Regents by Chancellor Dean H. Propst. Dr. Downs will remain as president at Clayton State until a successor is appointed by the Board of Regents, but no later than July 1, 1993.

Dr. Downs graduated from Conyers High School in 1942 and earned a junior college diploma from North Georgia College in 1943. He earned bachelor's and master's degrees in education from (See Downs Retirement on page 10)

Welcome From Vice President McElroy

Dear Clayton State College Students:

I am delighted to have this opportunity to welcome you to Clayton State College. I am pleased that you have chosen Clayton State, and I believe that you will be pleased with your choice.

The faculty at Clayton have worked to develop a reputation for offering quality programs. Clayton's general education program has been praised in several national publications for addressing some of the most important educational issues of our time. The program seeks to make learning more available to students by clearly identifying desired learning outcomes and by providing students with systematic feedback concerning their progress in developing these desired abilities.

Students pursuing certificate and two-year career programs have been quite successful in their chosen field of employment upon completion of their program. Students pursuing the Associate of Arts and Associate of Science degrees who have transferred to schools offering bachelor's degrees in their majors have demonstrated that the education they received at Clayton prepared them well for upper-division work. Clayton baccalaureate programs in business, nursing, and music are rapidly becoming recognized for their excellence.

You will find that Clayton's faculty are dedicated to teaching and working with students. Our central mission is to provide for students an effective learning experience, and all activities on this campus are designed to contribute to accomplishing that mission.

College can provide for you a foundation for an exciting and rewarding life. I challenge you to make your Clayton State College experience such a foundation.

Sincerely,

Elliott W. McElroy
Vice President for Academic Affairs

INFORMATION YOU CAN USE

A Reader's Guide To Entries In The Bent Tree

The Bent Tree will contain six basic types of entries. They are listed as follows:

1. News - News stories are to be straight forward descriptions of upcoming or past events of relevance to the campus community. The reporter should refrain from making judgments or expressing opinion in a news story. Quoted opinions should be attributed as specifically as possible. News stories should be balanced in approach and accurate in detail. News stories are written only by staff members of The Bent Tree.

2. Features - Features are staff-produced articles, poems, essays, reviews, listings, etc., of a non-controversial nature. This would include magazine-type submissions. The basic purpose of a feature is to provide useful and/or interesting information to the audience of The Bent Tree.

3. Editorials - Editorials are staff-written expressions of opinion on a topic of current interest to the audience of The Bent Tree. Unsigned editorials are presumed to represent the opinion of The Bent Tree staff. Signed editorials represent the opinion of the writer and may or may not reflect staff consensus. Editorials will be clearly identified as such by either placement on the editorial page or specific notation. Any factual information contained in editorials should be accurate.

4. Letters - Letters to the editor should be published only if they address a matter of current and timely concern to The Bent Tree. Letters are subject to standard editing, but the editors will take care to see that the editing does not alter the writer's basic message. Editors are not obligated to print all letters, but if letters are received on both sides of a controversial issue, letters on each side should be printed. If more than one letter is to be printed on either side of a controversial issue, the number of letters printed should be roughly in proportion to the number received on each side. Unsigned letters will not be accepted. Names may be withheld for valid reasons. The social security number of the writer is also required on the submission

5. Freelance Submissions - Freelance submissions may be accepted from members of the College community on any subject, but a submission that is essentially a short statement of opinion on a timely subject should be submitted as a letter to the editor and not as a freelance article. Freelance submissions will be accepted only if they are well written, substantive, accurate in fact, and of interest to the audience of The Bent Tree. Care will be taken to make sure that a variety of submissions are accepted if they are offered. This is so that one point of view does not dominate. Freelance submissions will not be accepted on a regular or continuing basis from a single organization or individual. Regular submissions are included under category six (columns). Freelance submissions will be clearly identified as not being written by the staff of The Bent Tree. Headings such as "Guest commentary," "Student viewpoint," etc., can be used by the editor in identifying such submissions. As an alternative, the by-line or a statement at the end of an article could be used to identify the author if not a member of the staff. All freelance submissions have to include the name and social security number of the contributor.

6. Columns - These are regularly appearing articles that fall in none of the above categories. Members of the College community who contribute a regular column to The Bent Tree become auxiliary members of the staff and agree to meet space, style, deadline and format requirements as the editor shall decide. Columnists shall, however, be given editorial freedom as to content. These columns should be clearly identified as such by placement, title, or appropriate notation.

CAMPUS SERVICES

WELCOME TO THE NEW LEARNING SUPPORT CENTER

by Loretta Robinson
LSC Staff Member

Just as your television set heralds a "whole new NBC" this fall, so is there a "whole new LSC" for fall quarter. Yes, the Learning Support Center is a "whole new place to be." Not only is there a rearrangement and expansion of the physical environment, but also we have added materials in math, language, business, science, and other areas of study. You will find that the Center can offer you more now than ever before.

The first thing you will notice is a new, more convenient entrance. Students may now enter the Center through the doors located directly in front of the stairway leading down from the library. This should be a welcome change for all visitors, but the shorter distance from the elevator (with no intervening doors) dramatically improves access for our wheelchair-bound students.

Once inside, you will find many physical changes that will help us to operate more efficiently in your behalf. For example, no longer will an Olympic Sprint be required between the camera monitors and the taping rooms when you need to make that video tape for a class. The monitors are now located near the new entrance, cutting the distance to the taping rooms in half.

You will also find that staff coverage has increased somewhat during peak hours. Now students will not have to wait as long for assistance during those times. Operating hours, however, will remain the same. During fall, winter and spring quarters, the Center is open from 8:00 am until 9:30 pm on Mondays through Thursdays, and from 8:00 am until 5:00 pm on Fridays.

If you are new on campus this quarter, we urge you to visit and become acquainted with the Learning Support Center. We have video tapes, audio tapes, interactive computer programs and print materials which can enhance your learning in many subject areas. All levels of math, including statistics, and most aspects of language skills are well represented in the materials. You will also find excellent programs in physics, chemistry, biology, psychology and many others.

If you know you need help in some particular area, but you are not sure where your weaknesses are, Center staff can help you determine specific areas in which to work. We have diagnostic testing available which accurately pinpoints strengths and weaknesses. In addition you will find materials that will help you prepare for tests. Some assist you in analyzing the fine points of multiple choice questions and in planning effective essay responses. Others assist in preparing for CPE's, The Georgia Regents' Test, and other standardized tests.

Although many things have changed in the Learning Support Center, one thing has not. If you are enrolled at Clayton State College, you are entitled to unlimited free use of LSC facilities. (Continuing Education students and others may use the Center for a modest fee by enrolling in the "Learning Support Experience" through the Office of Continuing Education.)

We invite you to drop by, look around, and talk with staff about how the Center can help you as a student. It is here for YOU, and we will continue to change and grow in directions that will improve our ability to offer you assistance that you will find valuable.

You Can Be A Part Of The Bent Tree

Journalism 100 meets in D-124 on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1:20-2:10 p.m. Sign up for the course during drop/add to get credit. You can also be a non-credit staffer or submit freelance articles, letters to the editor, or creative contributions (cartoons, poetry, short, short stories, etc.). See Rob Taylor, in D-217, for more information.

PC Labs Are Available To CSC Students

by Carla Hutchison
Student Freelance Contribution

Are you tired of laboring for hours on your old typewriter, poised and ready with white out in one hand and hunting and pecking for keys with the other hand? Well, a solution can be found right here at CSC for some of your term paper nightmares. This solution lies in the two personal computer labs full of friendly, automatic booting computers, equipped with the easy-to-use WordPerfect word processing program, spreadsheet programs, and many other class-based programs used for courses in business, accounting, statistics, typing, and more.

The programs accessible from the network are basically the same for both the T-220 and L-140 computer labs. The basic programs are WordPerfect, a word processor; Lotus and QuattroPro, spreadsheets; and Paradox, a database. For many of the programs, such as WordPerfect and Lotus, tutoring programs are also available. There are programs available to improve Regents tests scores and writing and reading skills such as, Regents Writing, Text Rater, and Speed Reading Tutor. The program Kinexus is also available for career counseling and resume registration.

Mr. Abate Zewide, Network Supervisor, and Ms. Cheryl Garvin, Microcomputer Specialist, are located in the lower level of the library and are in charge of the computer lab located in rooms L-140 and L-124. Dell computers are available for use in L-140, and IBM computers are available in L-124. The computers are equipped with an automatic boot so that machines can be booted on the network just by turning them on and typing in the appropriate Login name.

Students planning to use the lab should bring a double-sided, double density 5 1/4" disk when working on the computers. Paper is provided for students printing in the lab. A lab assistant is on duty at all times and is available to assist students and teachers. The lab assistant's work station is located in L-140. The lab is open Monday - Thursday, 7:30 am - 10:00 pm; Friday, 7:30 am - 5:00 pm; Saturday, 10:00 am - 3:00 pm; and Sunday, 12:00 pm - 5:00 pm. While first priority in this lab is the students, there are times when either L-140 or L-124 is reserved by a class. Weekly calendars are posted on the doors informing students and faculty of these times.

Pat Hite, a CSC student and computer lab regular, said of the L-140 lab, "I come in here and use the lab whenever I want to. All of the programs I need are here, and there's always someone down here to help me if I need it. And the equipment is always running well." "There are problems some times with the equipment, but I don't have to worry about that," she added.

The Technology building computer lab in room T-220 is used by the Technology building, but it is run by Computer Services, which is on call for repairing faulty machinery and programs and installing programs on the network. Dr. Carol Henson, Associate Professor of Business Education, coordinates the office administration programs and T-220 lab schedules. She is the contact person for scheduling classes and reporting problems. Automatic booting Dell computers are available for use in T-220.

Students planning to use this lab must bring a disk of their own and must also provide their own paper for printing documents. Computer lab assistants are available for student assistance but are not on duty at all times. They are generally on duty at peak student use time and when faculty is not available for student assistant. The lab is open from 8:00 am - 6:00 pm, but because classes are the first priority in the T-220 lab, the times when the lab is reserved or open to all students varies each quarter due to class scheduling and is posted on the door to the lab.

Both computer labs are open to individuals in the following priority order: 1) CSC students enrolled in a course requiring computer usage, 2) CSC students enrolled in a course in which computer usage is optional, 3) CSC faculty or staff, and 4) Other University System of Georgia students, faculty, or staff. If at any time all the computers are in use, potential users will sign a waiting list provided by the lab assistant, and time limits will be placed on computer use (with priority being given in the order described above).

According to Mrs. Garvin, in the Spring quarter of 1992, the usage of the labs in L-140 and L-124 totaled to 10,445 students and faculty. A majority of the lab use (7,327 students and faculty) was by students using the word processing programs. A majority of the use of the T-220 lab each quarter is by Office Administration classes and students completing outside assignments for these classes, according to Dr. Henson.

The Kids Are The Victims In The Bus Strike

Dear Editor:

The forming of unions in this country was definitely a good thing. However, I feel that there is a time when morals must take precedent over everything else. If the sanitation workers go on strike, I can drive to the dump. If an airline goes on strike, there is always another. If a public transit company goes on strike, I can always drive. But, these kids in the city of Atlanta are being walked all over in this bus strike. I feel for these bus drivers. It also concerns me greatly to hear that these buses are unsafe.

However, these people are not providing a service to the general population for profit, they are providing for our children's education. The only thing that could possibly be worse than this strike is when the teachers decide to walk out of the classroom. I say "grow up"!

Sincerely,
Steve Byrd

(Editor's Note: This letter was written before the strike was tentatively ended, but the writer requested that it be published.)

Viewpoint normally appears on page two of The Bent Tree. It includes editorials, letters to the editor and other student opinion pieces. If you would like to submit an article for the Viewpoint section please drop it by D-217.

Pull-Out Section: Salute To Lakers Soccer

THE BENT TREE

MORROW, GEORGIA VOLUME XXIV ISSUE 1

Another New Tradition
Begins At CSC This Fall

Lakers Inaugural Soccer Season Began Last Week

With four weeks of conditioning and workouts behind them, the Clayton State College Soccer Lakers focused on their inaugural game on Saturday, September 19, when they faced the Warriors of Central Wesleyan College at Central, S.C. The results from this contest were not available at press time.

The Lakers faced a veteran Warriors program led by junior midfielder Frenny Curley, a Palmetto State All-Conference selection last season. Central Wesleyan, coached by Mike Preuss, finished with a 6-12 record last year. Preuss is in his sixth season with the Warriors.

Clayton State Coach Adrian Brooks is expecting his first Lakers squad to be competitive in its inaugural season. The Lakers, who play a 15-game schedule, are composed with a strong nucleus of experienced players who have brought a good attitude and hard work ethic to the infant program.

"I look for us to be competitive in every game this season," said Brooks. "We're looking to lay a foundation for the years to come."

Brooks believes that the team's fitness will play a major factor for early success. Another factor will be the team's (See Inaugural Season on page 6)

SALUTE TO LAKERS SOCCER

CSC Soccer Is Student Generated

Clayton State students directly influenced the outcome on choices for intercollegiate sports when, in 1989, they united to call for the inclusion of soccer as one of the first sports to be begun on the intercollegiate level.

Early in the decision-making process (February, 1989), student at CSC voted in a referendum on intercollegiate sports. A majority of the students who voted were in favor of instituting sports competition at the intercollegiate level. Also on the ballot was an extensive listing of sports from which students voted for their favorites to be a part of the new intercollegiate focus.

When the ballot was presented to students, soccer was not included in the list of potential sports. This exclusion was very disappointing to many students. Many had played high school soccer and many others enjoyed it as a spectator sport. These students started a write-in campaign for soccer.

A letter written to The Bent Tree, signed by 35 Clayton State students, read in part, "...we were shocked to see the elimination of soccer from the list. There had never been any hint that soccer was in danger of being eliminated. It is, indeed, one of the up and coming games of the future. One only has to look at the increase in the number of people playing soccer and the increase in the number of soccer fields and stadiums to ascertain this fact. This is especially true on the Southside, which offers in Fayetteville one of the largest soccer facilities in the State. It is, furthermore, a sport that involves very little expense: two goals and chalk line are all that is necessary to play. Finally, the strong teams coming out of the area recreational groups and high schools point to an almost certain success on the playing field..."

Students were called upon to use a write-in vote for soccer in order to assure inclusion for intercollegiate consideration. And they responded, voting yes to soccer and making its inclusion a reality. As an immediate outgrowth of this student interest, in the Spring of 1989, a Soccer Club, sponsored by Professors Tommy Daughtry and June Legge, began competition at the Fayetteville Indoor Soccer Centre. Within six months, two teams, one A-League and one B-League, were competing. The team records improved every quarter. Since that time, the CSC Soccer Club has traveled to many other college campuses for both tournaments and individual teams competitions. They have played such teams as the University of Georgia, University of Alabama at Birmingham, Auburn University and West Georgia, LaGrange, Augusta, Young Harris, and Life colleges.

The different CSC teams, in the intervening period, began with a base of 16 student and grew to approximately 25 students per quarter, who were both eligible and actually played. The teams practiced two to three days per week and normally played at least two games per week. The players were supported by many other students, who, ineligible for one reason or another, still participated in practices and found many other ways to support the team.

It is this group of founding players and supporters whose interest in soccer precipitated the present intercollegiate team. The original team included the following: Matt Cheaves, Chris Cleveland, Keith Collier, Bryan Fairrel, Curtis Johnson, Steve Moss, Chris Paleveda, Scott Pressley, Richard Ray, Andrew Roca, Jonathan Roca, Matt Shehee, Gregory Scrivens, Phillip Stedham, Chris Waddell, and Karlos Walkes. The first captains were Curtis Johnson, Matt Cheaves, and Gregory Scrivens.

Some of the later players who were instrumental in moving the soccer program forward were: Tommy Denton, Dave Helm, Randy Hester, Matt Key, Chris Lewellan, Chris Schmeider, Tommy Lockart, Matthew Gibson, Chris Para, Devin Duty, and many others whose presence supported the soccer effort. The team benefited from fine goalie efforts by Chad Suddeth and Craig Marshall.

It is certain that these original players are proud of the part they played in getting the intercollegiate soccer program underway. The entire program: the beautiful soccer field, the fine coaching staff, the institutional support, and the bright future prospects for soccer on the CSC campus, should be a matter of great pride for the campus and the community.

luck with dodging serious injuries during the season. "All that I ask of my players is to be competitive," said Brooks.

Head Coach Adrian Brooks

According to Brooks, the Lakers are strong on both sides of the field. Offensively, the Lakers' strength is in its depth at the strikers. Freshman Jose Ninow of Brazil, sophomore Surey Smith of Morrow, freshman Stephen Zoeller of Lawrencville and junior Victor Nteff of Bamenda, Cameroon will be the primary strikers for Clayton State.

Defensively, Brooks finds the Lakers also very strong. Riverdale freshman Stacy Washington, the Clayton County Player of the Year in '92, has won the starting spot as goalkeeper. He will be capably backed up by junior Scott Roth of Warner Robins. The defensive unit will be anchored by another freshman, co-captain Craig Dunn of Fayetteville who played for the McIntosh High School, the 1992 Georgia State Champions.

The marking back positions, which Brooks described as "the first and foremost positions against an opponent's top offensive player," will be filled by sophomores Chris Para of Odessa, Texas and Devin Duty of Peachtree City.

The midfield duties will be covered by junior co-captain Matthew Gibson of Griffin, freshman Corby Whitlow of Lithonia and freshman Kevin Rachael of

Assistant Coach Jose Rivera

Lilburn. "All three have tremendous skills, good touch and good field vision," said Brooks of the midfielders.

Junior Matt Key of Jonesboro, sophomore David Cowan of Lithia Springs and freshman Todd Nidiffer of Ellenwood will make up the wings. Meanwhile, junior Charlie Chapeau of Griffin will serve as the team's utility player.

Following Saturday's game, the Lakers will open their home season on Thursday, Sept. 24 against Piedmont College at McCurry Park Soccer Complex in Fayetteville. The game is scheduled to begin at 4:00 p.m.

CSC Names Men's Assistant Basketball Coach

Christopher Nastopoulos, a former high school All-American and collegiate basketball player, has been named the new assistant men's basketball coach at CSC, according to Mason Barfield, Director of Athletics and men's basketball coach. He succeeds former assistant Jeff Ozment, who took the head coaching job at Truett-McConnell College earlier this summer.

Nastopoulos is a graduate of Pace Academy where he was a 1980 All-American. He played college basketball for Bill Foster at the University of South Carolina and earned a bachelor's degree in Political Science. He has been in the business world working in sales and real estate for the past several years.

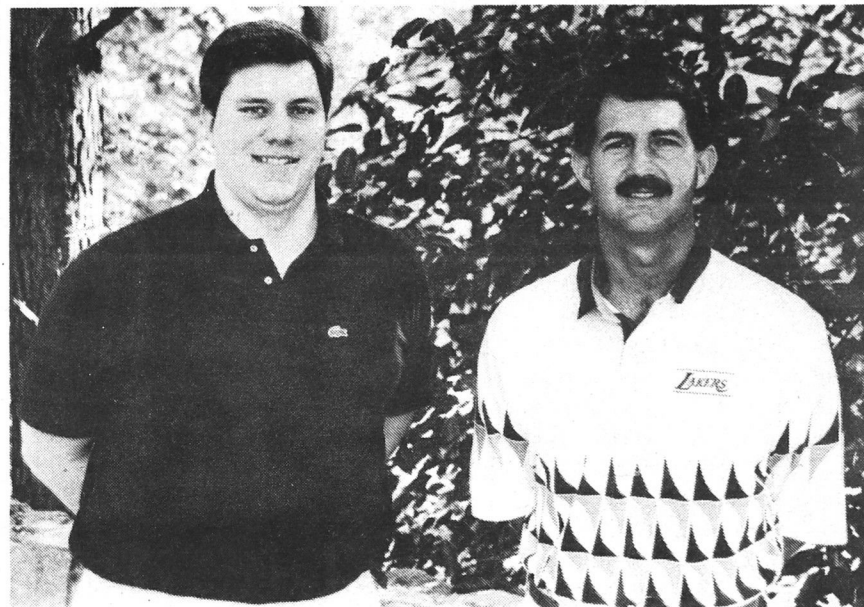

Over the past six years, Nastopoulos has been very active in various youth programs, including AAU. He has served as athletic director for Greek Orthodox youth programs in Georgia and Florida.

"His enthusiasm for the profession and his desire for learning the game was what interested us in Chris," said Barfield. "It's nice to get someone new to the coaching profession who has new ideas to bring in. We were looking for an individual with enthusiasm who can pass it along to the players. Chris has that enthusiasm and he'll do a good job for us."

According to Barfield, Nastopoulos' duties will include recruitment, scouting, on the floor coaching, player development and academic monitoring. In addition, he will also serve as golf coach.

"I look forward to the challenge of coaching and the opportunities to learn a lot about the game," said Nastopoulos. "I have a belief in young people and this gives me an opportunity to make a difference in their lives."

Lady Lakers Began Workouts September 21

Clayton State College women's basketball coach Lynn Jarrett is focused on the future. In her 12 years of coaching, Jarrett experienced one of her toughest seasons during the Lady Lakers' inaugural 8-16 campaign last year.

With last season behind her, the focal point is the upcoming 1992-93 season. Jarrett opened up preseason camp on Monday, September 21 (In NAIA, there is no official preseason start date).

"We're a young program building for the future," said Jarrett. "We have an eager, young group who bring a winning attitude -- on and off the court -- into the program."

While Jarrett adds five new faces to the program, only five players from the inaugural team will be returning for their second seasons. The biggest loss is All-District 25/Freshman of the Year Latrecia Drake. The former high school All-American fell to academic regulations.

"Losing Latrecia had nothing to do with basketball or her personality," said Jarrett. "It was strictly academics. The loss of Latrecia Drake is obviously a major impact. But the main concern was Latrecia."

With the help of Jarrett, Drake is furthering her education at East Central College in Mississippi. "Latrecia wants an education," said Jarrett. "I'm glad she's back in school." If Drake has a successful fall, she could regain her eligibility to help East Central after the holidays.

Also missing from the squad are

Cookie Wise and Dawn Runion. Wise lost her eligibility for the fall, but has a chance to be back in a Lady Lakers uniform after the holiday break. "Cookie made nice progress during summer school," said Jarrett, "but her back is against the wall." Runion, who played a significant role as a reserve, elected to devote more time to her nursing degree.

"I could give a lot of reasons and excuses for our situation, but that won't change anything," said Jarrett. "We return five players who survived last season. We're going to build the program around these players. We're also bringing in five quality freshmen who will be put to the test early. We're just going to have to change some things we did last year to adapt to this year's team."

The first change is the opening of preseason itself. "We're starting one week earlier which is the earliest I have ever began a season," said Jarrett.

She plans to spend more time on the floor going over the offense.

"We'll approach the season a little differently," said Jarrett. "We're going to work very hard on offense and take more shots. We'll keep things simple. But I'll give them the same challenge I've given all my previous teams -- that they give it their best."

"We face a tougher schedule," said Jarrett. "But if we're lucky with the injuries and can get a few breaks our way, we'll continue to show improvement."

CAMPUS SERVICES

Job Placement & Cooperative Education Has Something For All Students

The Clayton State College Office of Job Placement and Cooperative Education provides many services for our enrolled students. Our office is operated to serve students and our employers. The office is located in the upper level of the Student Center Building in room D-208. Some of the services we offer are:

- part-time and seasonal student jobs
- full-time employment assistance as students graduate from programs
- workshops to enhance student success with employment
- industry files to research corporate information
- Business In Review, held annually to allow employers to meet students on campus to illustrate employment options
- employment interviews, held regularly on campus with advance knowledge of the needs of potential employers
- Cooperative Education/Internship work experiences that provide work assignments related to the students program of study.

The office is open from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday and until 5:00 p.m. Wednesday through Friday. Additional office hours are available by appointment. The phone number is 961-3518.

Registration with our office before graduation is imperative if we are to forward your resume to companies as they make specific requests. If you are getting a certificate, you register before your last quarter, if you are an associate degree candidate, you register two quarters before graduation and for baccalaureate degree students you should register at the beginning of your senior year.

There are two new programs available for students that allow greater access to the world of work. These are programs are kiNexus and Peterson's Connexion.

kiNexus is a computerized database program recently installed in the Job Placement Office. This program is designed to provide students with the opportunity to register with kiNexus' national database, allowing CSC graduates to connect with the right company and the right job. Students interested in utilizing the kiNexus service should stop by D-208 and register with the Job Placement Office.

Peterson's Connexion is available to graduating students. Students are invited to register with the service through the Job Placement Office. When students register, they are joining a network regularly accessed by employers and graduate schools who have jobs or educational opportunities to offer. For additional information, or to register for this service, students need to come by D-208.

Additional information is located in The Bent Tree concerning employment interviews and important job search happenings for the coming year. Please take the time to include all events that will enhance your job search capabilities. It is very important that you enhance your educational experience with the right information to enter the work world.

Counseling And Career Center Schedules Career Planning Workshops

Students often experience increased self-confidence and motivation when they identify a career goal and college major that most closely matches their interests and aptitudes. The Counseling and Career Center staff will conduct 35 Career Planning Workshops during the fall quarter to facilitate students' development of their career plans.

Expected Workshop outcomes are that students will have the opportunity to tentatively identify their career goals by participating in a vocational assessment exercise. Students can learn about additional career guidance resources and will receive a packet of materials that describe other programs and services offered by the Counseling and Career Center.

Choose a workshop from the schedule on the right. Pre-registration is required. Participation in each workshop is limited, so register early in D-208 or by calling 961-3515. We look forward to seeing you.

SGA Is A Multi-faceted Organization

by Cindy Jones
SGA President

The Student Government Association (SGA) at Clayton State College is responsible for many of the social events held on campus as well as acting as a liaison between students and administrators. The first SGA-sponsored event in the 1992-93 academic year will be Club Awareness Day. It will take place from 11:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. on September 24. All student clubs and organizations have been invited to set up a booth outside the Library to offer information about their organization. This is an excellent opportunity to learn about what CSC has to offer in extracurricular activities.

Another role that SGA plays is that of appointing students to committee positions. Most committees require a 2.5 grade point average and good social standing. Committees with positions available include Academic Affairs, Student Services, Executive, Lyceum, General Entertainment, Athletic, and Library committees and the Judicial Commission. It is very important that students be represented on these committees because many decisions are made based on the recommendations of these committees.

So take an active role in your education and join SGA or a committee. For more information, contact Cindy Jones in the Student Activities Office (D-217) at 961-3510 or drop a suggestion in one of the SGA suggestion boxes located on bulletin boards throughout the campus. Suggestions with name and student ID# will be responded to.

We're Trying To Make CSC More "Liveable"

by Cindy Jones
SGA President

Along with the renovations in the Student Center cafeteria, an effort to improve the student lounges is also taking place. For the third year, the Student Services Committee approved money to be set aside for lounge furniture. The first year, new furniture was purchased for the upper D-lounge and the lobby in front of the Student Services office. The money approved from last year purchased the new C-lobby furniture which arrived near the end of summer quarter.

The most recently approved funds will possibly be applied to outdoor seating behind the cafeteria. Because these changes are very important to the campus atmosphere, comments concerning the current or proposed changes are welcome. Please let me or other SGA leaders know of your opinions on this matter.

Eyes On The Future: Leadership CSC

Leadership CSC is one of several leadership opportunities for students at Clayton State College. Developed through the Dean of Students office, this comprehensive leadership training program provides students with the resources they will need as leaders to develop an ideal and unique image of the future - a future for campus and community.

Leadership CSC involves monthly meetings, workshops, and retreats which focus on "hot topics" for today's leaders. Through guest speakers and interactive group experiences, members will learn to make use of skills involving different leadership styles, communication skills, presentation skills, organizational management, creative problem solving, and valuing diversity. Student leaders will utilize their leadership skills by working together on a project that will be designed to meet some specified need on campus.

The selection process dictates that qualified students must have a grade point average of 2.5 and completed 30 quarter hours at Clayton State College. In addition, all applicants will be scheduled for a 15 minute interview. Following the interviews, the Dean of Students office and the Leadership CSC Advisory Board will select students who demonstrated the greatest potential for leadership. These students become the class of Leadership CSC for the year.

Applications are available in Student Services, room D-217. The deadline for accepting applications for Leadership CSC 1992-1993, is Wednesday, October 7, 1992.

Emergency Phones Installed On Campus

Clayton State College recently installed five emergency telephones on campus. These emergency phones are just like the emergency call boxes that you see on I-75 as you enter Florida. They provide immediate contact to a Public Safety dispatcher or an officer with the touch of one (1) button. Having these phones will provide better safety and security for the College community. It will also enable a faster response time from the Department of Public Safety.

To use the phone, just pull open the left side of the yellow box, pick up the phone receiver and push the red button. As soon as the red button is pushed, it immediately rings at the Public Safety office located in D-building, room 206. A dispatcher or officer will answer the phone. A computer is also activated recording the time and location of the phone, even if you do not know what phone you are calling from, the computer will advise the Public Safety officer.

Once the officer or dispatcher answers the phone, advise the officer of the problem and your location. To find out the location of the phone, look for the number inside the box, or on the outside of the box, or the number at the bottom of the green and white sign. The number should be 1 through 5.

- Phone #1 D-Parking lot
- Phone #2 C/F-Parking lot
- Phone #3 G-Parking lot
- Phone #4 T-Parking lot
- Phone #5 Upper P.E.-Parking lot

Each phone has a blue light at the top of the pole. The blue light is just a location indicator and the light flashes only at night.

The person using the phone can not disconnect the call. Only the dispatcher or officer can. The caller can also be heard from a distance, so even if the person's mouth is not next to the receiver, the voice can still be heard.

One of the most interesting features of the phone is that it is solar powered. That means that if the electricity is out on campus, you can still contact the Department of Public Safety. Even in total darkness, the solar panels have enough energy in them to last for three days.

The emergency phones also have built in tamper alarms. If someone tries to remove it, bend the pole, hit it with a hammer, etc., the box automatically sends a silent alarm to the Public Safety office and an officer is dispatched to that particular phone.

These phones are for contacting the Public Safety Office only and can not be used to contact an on campus or outside number.

The next time you need a jump start, lock you keys in your car, have an accident, see a suspicious person, or need a Public Safety officer, just pick up the phone and push the red button.

If you have any questions, come by the Public Safety Office in D-building, room 206 or call 961-3540. Public Safety is available 24 hours a day.

Public Safety Department Welcomes You To Clayton State

Welcome new students!

The CSC Public Safety Department hopes you get to know us as your friends. We encourage you to help us by learning and abiding by the established rules and regulations. We are here for your assistance, and if we can help you in anyway, please do not hesitate to contact us.

On November 10, 1990, the Student Right to Know and Campus Security Act was enacted. This piece of legislation requires public safety departments of postsecondary institutions to provide certain types of information on public safety services and crimes. This article will provide most of that information. For further information and a complete listing, come by the Public Safety Office in D-building, room D-206.

Clayton State College Public Safety officers are graduates of State Certified Police Academy and attend yearly in-service training programs on firearms, first aid, and other police related topics. They have full arrest powers and can issue state citations for traffic offenses. They also enforce College rules and regulations, state laws, and federal laws pertaining to public safety.

Uniformed officers are on patrol 24 hours a day either by foot or by vehicle.

They are here for your assistance and provide a variety of services.

CSC Presents Friday Night Flicks This Fall

The General Entertainment Committee will present five feature films for your enjoyment this quarter. Your validated student photo ID card will admit you and a guest at these screenings.

The series begins next week with Far and Away. This Tom Cruise-Nicole Kidman (Mrs. Cruise) film will be shown on Friday, October 2, at 1:15, 6:00, 8:25 and 10:50 p.m. All of the screenings will take place in G-132 for this and the other four films this quarter. The period drama is set in the 1800's, first in Ireland, then on to Boston and finally to Oklahoma.

The "PG-13"-rated feature will be accompanied by screenings of Disney's Bedknobs and Broomsticks at 6:00 and 8:25 p.m. This and all other kiddie films will be shown in G-127. Kiddie films are presented whenever a feature is rated "R" or "PG-13." Kiddie films feature a projectionist and babysitter for the younger audiences. If your child is in diapers or cannot behave without your being present, it would be appreciated if you would not leave your child in the kiddie film alone. You are welcome to attend any kiddie film with your child (or children).

Lethal Weapon 3, one of the top box-office hits of the Summer season, will be presented on October 16. This action-adventure "buddy" picture features the team of Mel Gibson and Danny Glover. Joe Pesci, the comic relief from Lethal Weapon 2, returns as well. Show times are 1:15, 6:30, 8:35 and 10:40 p.m. This "R"-rated feature will be accompanied by Disney's North Avenue Irregulars at 6:30 and 8:35 p.m.

Tom Clancy's best-selling novel, Patriot Games, has been turned into an exciting movie starring Harrison Ford. Patriot Games will be shown on October 30 at 1:15, 6:30, 8:35 and 10:40 p.m. The Bugs Bunny/Roadrunner Movie will accompany this "R" feature. Show times for the kiddie film are 6:30 and 8:35 p.m.

Michael Keaton reprises his starring role as the "Dark Knight" in Batman Returns, on November 13. This time the Joker's gone, but there are problems with Cat Woman (Michelle Pfeiffer in a scene-stealing role) and the Penguin (Danny DeVito, warts and all). It will be shown at 1:15, 6:00, 8:15 and 10:30 p.m.

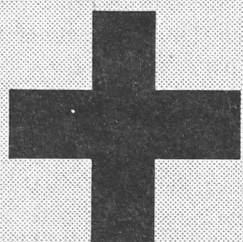

Although not an overwhelming "blockbuster" like the original, Batman Returns has its fans (and many of them are expected in G-132 for one or more of the screenings). Street talk is that Batman Returns will be out on video in late October. While this may be true, it's not the same seeing a film like this on a 19-inch screen in your family room. Join your friends in G-132 for a big-screen viewing of this sci-fi feature.

The kiddie film shown on November 13 will be Disney's The World's Greatest Athlete, starring a young Jan Michael Vincent, is the kiddie feature that goes with Batman Returns, rated "PG-13."

The final feature of the quarter is Sister Act, starring Whoopi Goldberg. It will be shown on December 4, at 1:15, 6:30, 8:30 and 10:30 p.m. This was one of the surprise success stories of the summer film season. Earning over $110 million at the box office, it was in the "top ten" grossing films for over 10 weeks this Summer. Whoopi stars as a woman on the run from the mob and she decides to hide out with a group of nuns. Some wild and wacky things happen and the nuns seem to have as much fun as the audience does. This "PG" feature will not have a kiddie film.

Tuesday Tradition

Adds Something Special To Campus This Year

In response to the challenge of promoting multicultural awareness on campus, Clayton State College complements its already successful Lyceum Series this year with Tuesday Tradition, a new, comprehensive package of co-curricular programming created to "celebrate diversity."

Tuesday Tradition brings together, on the first and third Tuesday of each month, provocative guest speakers from various cultural backgrounds, sharing their perspectives on politics, economics, education, religion and art. The second Tuesday presents the Millennium film series which looks at indigenous societies from all corners of the earth, exploring the similarities and differences we share with others. These programs, together with the newly formed Lyceum Debate Club and the Lyceum Book Club, promote constructive dialogue and lifelong learning around issues vital to the growth of a contemporary and global perspective.

Presentations confirmed for 1992-93 include Professor L. Z. Fang, a Chinese political dissident now teaching in America; Mayor Unita Blackwell, a 1992 MacArthur Foundation Grant recipient; Ms. LaDonna Harris, founder of Americans for Indian Opportunity; and Ms. Linda Chavez, the highest ranking Hispanic in the Reagan Administration. These distinguished speakers, combined with academicians and community leaders, join to make Tuesday Tradition a valuable co-curricular program for Clayton State College students and the public.

For a complete listing of dates, times and locations of presentations, please refer to the Lyceum Program Guide or the Activities Calendar, both of which you may pick up in the Office of Student Activities (D-217). They are also on racks in the lobbies of the C, D and G buildings and in the CSC library.

ARA Food Services Comes To CSC

By Steve Byrd
SGA Vice President

Fall is always a time of change for a college campus. This Fall is no exception for Clayton State. Not only will we see new faces in the hallways and classrooms, but also in food services. Clayton State has managed its own food services since opening in 1969.

Three companies submitted bids to the Fiscal Affairs office. The decision was left up to an ad-hoc committee consisting of administrators, faculty, and students. After many hours of formal presentations, debates, in and out of state site visits, reviewing rather large written proposals, and several free lunches, ARA was chosen.

After this decision was made the same committee was responsible for interviewing the managerial candidates. Four were interviewed for these positions. The managers chosen were Rick Beeson, Food Service Director, and Rich Edenfield, Assistant Food Service Director.

The only group to have used ARA since they arrived on campus was Continuing Education. After hosting luncheons and banquets, all they could offer was praise as to how their events were handled.

When the cafeteria re-opens this week we can expect, along with your old favorites, the addition of a Pizza Hut Express and later a Chick-fil-A.

I encourage everyone to take time to stop by and meet our new managers and express your thoughts to them.
