

POUPOURRI

Volume II, No. 12

Clayton Junior College

October 23, 1970

Last Friday, Dr. Betty Woodward, associate professor of biology on leave from the college, died at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Home in Atlanta, and graveside services were held Sunday at Floral Hills Memory Gardens.

On Wednesday, President Downs announced at the faculty meeting that Dr. Woodward's family had established a "Betty Woodward Scholarship Fund" at the college, and the following resolution was adopted:

"The faculty of Clayton Junior College wishes to express its feeling of deep regret and great loss of the passing of Doctor Betty Woodward. All who knew her recognized the great dedication she had for the profession, the true concern she had for the student, and her personal drive for perfection.

"She will be missed by her colleagues, but perhaps more importantly, she will be missed by her students. Few teachers have equalled Betty Woodward's ability to inspire the students in the classroom. Through her efforts, her students became dedicated professionalists.

"It is our hope that the Betty Woodward Scholarship Fund will serve as a reminder of her greatness to the faculty of Clayton Junior College and will cause us all to attempt to reach the heights attained by Doctor Betty Woodward."

ON CAMPUS

The LIBRARY adopted revised hours Thursday as an aid to evening students. According to Lucian Rogers, librarian, those new hours are as follows:

Monday through Thursday	7:45 a.m. to 10 p.m.
Friday	7:45 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Saturday	Closed
Sunday	12 noon to 5 p.m.

Clayton has 25 FRESHMAN SCHOLARS and eight REGENTS' SCHOLARS this year. According to Mrs. Lucy Champion, Regents' Scholarships were approved October 14 for Marilyn Buckner, Kennedy R. Coulter, Jr., Clara Susan Croft, Jerri Elizabeth Harden, Jo Ann McKelvey, Rex David Smith, Harold Dalton Wiley Jr. and Phyllis Akin Youngblood.

OFF CAMPUS

Jo Ann McKelvey, editor of the student newspaper, was a student representative at the Governor's Conference on Education in Atlanta October 7-8.

Eleven Clayton students, their spouses and dates, and Mrs. Carole Knight, instructor of German, attended the annual "OKTOBERFEST" in Atlanta October 17. The festival, based on that held in Munich each year, is sponsored by the German-American Club of Atlanta.

John Adams, violinist and assistant professor of music at Agnes Scott College, will give a recital at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, October 27 in Presser Hall of Maclean Auditorium at Agnes Scott.

CAMPUS AND COMMUNITY

The Professional Womans' Club of Forest Park will use Room B-15 of the lecture hall the evening of Wednesday, November 4 for a meeting, and displays will be set up in the lobby of the hall late that afternoon.

PEOPLE AND PLACES

The Georgia Association of Junior Colleges held its annual meeting at Andrew College in Cuthbert yesterday and today. Representing Clayton were PRESIDENT HARRY S. DOWNS, DEAN JERRY WILLIAMSON, DR. THOMAS N. HAGOOD, DR. CHARLES L. DOWNS, DR. VERA B. ZALKOW and ROBERT C. BOLANDER.

ROBERT BOLANDER will attend a meeting of the University System's Administrative Committee on Student Affairs at Georgia Tech November 8 and 9.

MRS. FRANCES BOWEN attended a business education luncheon of the Sixth District GAE meeting in Forest Park Monday.

MISS ANITA BRIGGS, MRS. CAROLE KNIGHT, and DR. PEDRO MORALES will attend a language teachers' conference at Wesleyan College in Macon tomorrow.

STEVE EDWARDS went to the University of Georgia October 15 to obtain information on evaluation and criminal justice, and will be there again October 25 through 27 to attend a Police Educators' Workshop. He and his wife Sherry became the proud parents of a baby girl, Sonya Kaye, September 26. She is their first child.

JOHN D. MCLEOD JR., assistant to the comptroller, travelled to North Georgia College Wednesday to gain a working knowledge of loan and scholarship accounts.

THOMAS H. MULLENIX, director of plant operations, attended a Law Enforcement Conference of the Columbus Police Department Tuesday.

EDWINA SVOBODA is in Athens today attending a meeting of the University System's Academic Committee on Fine Arts and visiting the art department at the University of Georgia.

BOB WINN attended a meeting concerning Title I of the Higher Education Act at Berry College October 16.

INTRODUCING

DR. PEDRO MORALES....

Dr. Morales, a native of San Cristobal, Cuba, joined the faculty of Clayton Junior College during the fall quarter, 1969 from the University of Georgia, where he had been a graduate teaching assistant in the Department of Romance Languages.

A graduate of the Normal School for Teachers in Havana, Dr. Morales holds a Doctor of Education Degree from the University of Havana, and has taught in both elementary and high schools in Havana.

In 1962, Dr. Morales, whose wife's brother lives in Decatur, came to Georgia, where he has taught at Berry Academy and Berry College, Mr. Berry; Coosa High School, Rome and the Bibb County Elementary Schools, Macon. He also taught for one year at Gaffney High School, Gaffney, South Carolina.

Dr. Morales then went to the University of Georgia, where he received a Master of Arts Degree in 1969. He became an American citizen last year, and now lives with his wife O'Dali and their three children--O'Dali, 13; Elina, 11, and Raoul, 11 months--in Morrow.

Dr. Morales speaks French in addition to Spanish and English, and although he has travelled to other parts of the United States, says he has no desire to leave his adopted Georgia.

"Potpourri" is published weekly by the Office of Information Services to provide news of interest to the faculty and staff. You are invited to submit news by the Wednesday noon preceding publication on Friday.