

POTPOURRI

Volume II, No. 13

Clayton Junior College

October 30, 1970

Last week's Potpourri reported that a "Betty Woodward Scholarship Fund" had been established at the college by Dr. Woodward's family. According to Comptroller James Robertson, this information was incorrect--only the possibility of setting up such a fund had been discussed with the family. Potpourri was therefore recalled, and all pertinent news contained in that edition will be included below for your information.
